Gc
929.2
Au2lj
1822537

M. L.

REYNOLDS HISTORICAL GENEALOGY COLLECTION

ALLEN COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
3 1833 01202 0605

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2018

https://archive.org/details/johnelizabethbuc00auch

Hugh and Ann Anthony Stuart Auchincloss

1780-1855 1785-1870

Auchincloss Family Tree

1957

John and Elizabeth (Buck) Auchincloss

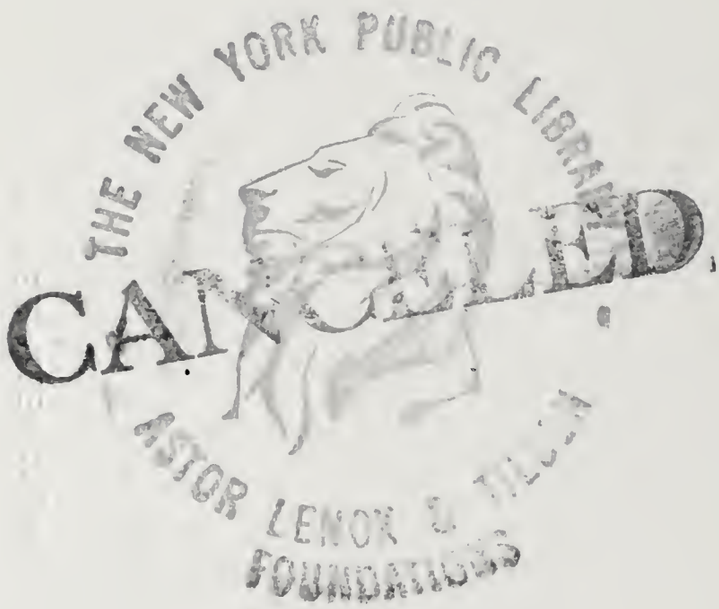
THEIR DESCENDANTS AND THEIR ANCESTRY

Compiled by their granddaughters

JOANNA RUSSELL AUCHINCLOSS

CAROLINE AUCHINCLOSS FOWLER

1957



The Dingley Press, Freeport, Maine

FOREWORD

It was Wilmarth (Lefty) Lewis who said that the Auchinclosses were not a family but a land mass. One wonders if there is any better definition for the spreading genealogical phenomenon that this book describes. We lack the formal aids of the past to hold ourselves a unit. There is no title to pass from generation to generation and keep the serried ranks in order. At least I have never quite believed in that "Sir Hugh Auchinclos" of 1225 or that we had no crest only because "the clan had its origin prior to 1200." There is no family fortune, which, in any case, unless preserved by the strictest rules of primogeniture, would have been long dissipated in division. And survival of our very name, now seemingly guaranteed so many times over, is only a statistical coincidence. Of the 330 descendants of John Auchincloss and Elizabeth Buck, 57 have been males bearing the family surname, an unusually high proportion. Yet of John's twelve brothers and sisters and all their issue only a single descendant, Ruth Auchincloss Child, survives today!

1822537

So what is it, a family? Looking for my answer in the pages of Aunt Josie's photograph album, staring at the sober Presbyterian countenances of those early Auchinclosses, Robert the sailor, Hugh and John, with their great aquiline noses and gravely staring eyes, I can find no bridge to take me over the gap to young Stuart on the cover of LIFE. And reading through the scanty records, I cannot altogether repress a shiver at the formidable negatives of Dr. Alexander's funeral oration for the first Hugh in 1855: "The fibre of his nature was strong rather than delicate, hence some misapprehended him as blunt and harsh. The deceased was not a man of smooth words or disguised flatteries. . . ." No, indeed, one feels quite sure that he was not. Is it twentieth century decadence to be glad that we are no longer apprehended as "blunt and harsh?"

And yet. Does not the family name still suggest something to each of us, something apart from ourselves and our individual branches? If the brownstone fronts and the long quiet Sundays and the rigid Presbyterian consciences are gone, if the days are past when any member of the family could know more than a fraction of its total, does not some part of that early simplicity and integrity still endure? My question, of course, can only be decided for himself by each descendant of John and Elizabeth who will read in the pages that follow all that has happened to our expanding family since the good ship "Factor" brought the first Hugh to these shores.

Louis S. Auchincloss[5]

Editors' Foreword

The data for this book has been assembled for all the descendants of John and Elizabeth Auchincloss, to learn about each other and realize of what an extensive family they are a part. It has been of real interest to us to do this work, and we have been greatly heartened by the co-operation, both moral and financial, which has greeted our efforts. We hope you will excuse any errors or omissions, and will recognize that we are amateurs in the field of genealogy.

We regret having had to condense some of the interesting material sent us, and regret even more that some material is not as full as we would have liked. Our in-laws are such an integral part of the family, and have contributed so much to it, that it is with real regret that we are forced to omit data about them. Space forbids our doing them justice; and the same is true of the junior members of the family, about whose school and athletic activities much could be said. We hope that twenty years from now someone will be sufficiently interested to continue these annals.

Since the names continually repeat in successive generations, we have placed a numerical exponent after each name to indicate the generation, thus:

Hugh Auchincloss.[1]
John Auchincloss,[2] his son.
Henry B. Auchincloss,[3] his grandson, etc.

The number before each name indicates the position in the individual family.

Already there are many of the seventh generation.

If this book does anything to hold the widening branches of an old family together, it has accomplished its purpose.

Joanna Russell Auchincloss
Caroline Auchincloss Fowler

John and Elizabeth (Buck) Auchincloss

1810-1876 1816-1902

HENRY BUCK AUCHINCLOSS

JOHN AUCHINCLOSS[2]
AND HIS DESCENDANTS

3. JOHN AUCHINCLOSS.[2]
Born 1810, died 1876 while on a fishing trip.
Married 1835 to Elizabeth Buck (born 1816, died 1902). Nine children.
Business firm, "John and Hugh Auchincloss," merchants, New York City.
Presbyterian. Lived in New York City at 11 West 57th Street, and Newport, Rhode Island.

1. HENRY BUCK AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1836, died 1926.

2. SARAH ANN AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1838, died 1887.

3. JOHN STUART AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1840, died 1842.

4. WILLIAM STUART AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1842, died 1928.

5. ELIZABETH ELLEN AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1844, died 1925.

6. EDGAR STIRLING AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1847, died 1892.

7. FREDERICK LAWTON AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1851, died 1878.

8. JOHN WINTHROP AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1853, died 1938.

9. HUGH DUDLEY AUCHINCLOSS.[3]
Born 1858, died 1913.

HENRY BUCK AUCHINCLOSS[3]

AND HIS

DESCENDANTS

1. Henry Buck Auchincloss.[3]
   Born 1836, died 1926.
   Married 1860 to Mary Cabell. Seven children.
   Lived in Orange, New Jersey, New York City and California.

   1. Margbret Cabell Auchincloss.[4]
      Born 1861, died 1936.
      Married 1885 to Richard M. Colgate. Two children.

      1. Henry Auchincloss Colgate.[5]
         Born 1890, died 1957.
         Married 1919-1927 to Jeannette T. Pruyn. Three children.
         Married 1930 to Linda Lee Wallace, who died in 1954.
         Married 1954-1957 to Denise Smith.
         Yale 1913. Occupation, finance.
         War Service: 1917-1918, U. S. Army. Air, two years, instructor in flying in U. S. A.
         Baptist and (generally) Republican.
         Interests and hobbies: "A recent golf addict but a life-time fisherman." Collected Currier and Ives prints.
         Lived in New York City.

         1. Anne Colgate.[6]
            Born 1921.
            Married 1942 to Richard C. Sutton. Four children.
            Attended Vassar College. Congregationalist and Republican.
            Co-owner and co-manager with her husband of the Malihini Hotel, Waikiki, Honolulu.
            Interests: Golf and swimming.
            She hope that if any Auchinclosses "come to Honolulu, they will look us up for swimming, golfing, dining, or chatting."

            1. Linda Lee Sutton[7] b. 1944.

            2. Richard C. Sutton[7] b. 1945.

3. Beverly C. Sutton[7] b. 1948.
4. Warner C. Sutton[7] b. 1952.

2. Richard Morse Colgate.[6]
Born 1923.
Married 1949 to Rosemary Hall. Three children.
Yale 1945. Manufacturer, Colgate-Palmolive Co.
Unitarian and Republican.
War Service: 1941-1946, Pacific Area, Lieutenant J.G. in U. S. Navy.
Lives in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, New Jersey.

1. Jessie M. Colgate[7] b. 1950.
2. Margaret M. Colgate[7] b. 1952.
3. Pamela M. Colgate[7] b. 1953.

3. Stirling Auchincloss Colgate.[6]
Born 1925.
Married 1947 to Rosemary Williamson. Three children.
Cornell A.B. 1948, Ph.D. 1951. Occupation, working in A.E.C.'s controlled thermonuclear program, also on several of his own patents.
War Service: Merchant Marine in South Pacific and Atlantic.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Interests and Hobbies: skiing, swimming, camping in the high Sierras.
Lives in Livermore, California.

1. Henry Auchincloss Colgate[7] b. 1950.
2. Mary Sarah Colgate[7] b. 1952.
3. Arthur S. Colgate[7] b. 1953.

2. Muriel Colgate.[5]
Born 1897.
Married 1923 to Cyril Francis Damon, who died in 1954. Three children.
Lives in Honolulu, Hawaii.
War Service: Hawaii Red Cross, Honolulu Canteen Corps, Chairman Red Cross Blood Bank and Royal Surf Canteen.
Congregationalist and Republican.
Interests and Hobbies: travel, painting, moving picture photography, flower arrangement.

1. Richard Colgate Damon.[6]

Born 1924.
Married 1951 to Nancie Sears Hall.
Colgate University 1950, Magna cum Laude. High honors in anthropology, Phi Beta Kappa.
War Service: 1942-1946, 100th Infantry Division, Eastern France, Southern Germany. Field commission, 1945, and subsequently Aide-de-Camp to Division Commanding General.
Congregationalist and Republican. Occupation, Trust officer in Bishop Trust Co.
Interests and hobbies: Painting, music, director Honolulu Symphony Society, trustee Mid-Pacific Schools. Lives in Honolulu.

2. Cyril Francis Damon, Jr.[6]

Born 1926.
Yale 1950 (Sorbonne for junior year). University of Colorado Law School, 1953.
War Service: U. S. Navy 1944-1946, Pacific Area.
Congregationalist and Republican.
Occupation: Attorney, President 1956, Hawaii Junior Bar Association.
Lives in Honolulu.

3. Gordon Happer Damon.[6]

Born 1930, married 1957 to Frances Anne Noon.
Williams College 1952.
War Service: Served two years in the U. S. Air Force, Sept. 1952-Sept. 1954. One and one-half years of that time spent in French Morocco.
Congregationalist and Republican. Occupation, Salesman.
Interests and hobbies: Skiing, surfing, golf, reading and photography.
Lives in Honolulu.

2. Henry Stuart Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1863, died 1863.

3. Arthur Stirling Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1867, died 1923.
Married 1896 to Margaret G. Barry.
Princeton 1891. Lived in Redlands, California, where he had orange groves.

4. Elizabeth Beldon Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1869, died 1876.

5. John Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1872, died 1948.
Married 1912 to Grace Eginton. Two children.
Princeton 1895. Broker. Presbyterian and Republican.
Hobbies: hunting and fishing.

1. Julia Eginton Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1913.
Married George Hertford Parks, M.D., 1940. Two children.
Graduated from the Chapin School, New York.
Catholic and independent Democrat.
Lives in Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y.

1. Julia Hertford Parks.[6] b. 1942.

2. John Auchincloss Parks.[6] b. 1946.

2. Mary Cabell Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1918.
Married 1943 to Keith James Laidler. Three children.
Chapin School, New York. Froebel League Training School, New York. Taught at several schools before marriage.
Lives in Ottawa, Canada, where her husband is professor of chemistry, but does not want to lose her American citizenship.

1. Margaret Cabell Laidler.[6] b. 1944.

2. Audrey Auchincloss Laidler.[6] b. 1948.

3. James Reid Laidler.[6] b. 1952.

6. James Cabell Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1876, died 1892.

7. Mary Dudley Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1878, died 1954. Lived in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

SARAH ANN AUCHINCLOSS[3] AND HER DESCENDANTS

2. Sarah Ann Auchincloss.[3]
Born 1838, died 1887.
Married 1857 to James Coats (of Scotland). Six children.

1. Elizabeth Winthrop Coats.[4]
Born 1858, died 1923. Married 1888 to Thomas Glen Arthur. Two children.
Lived in England and Algiers, where they had an old Moorish palace with beautiful gardens.

1. James Arthur.[5]
Born 1889, died 1918. Married 1912 to Eleanor Montgomerie.

2. Alice Dudley Arthur.[5]
Born 1891, died 1951. Married 1910 to Francis C. Montgomerie. Two children.

1. Henry Montgomerie.[6]
Born 1911, died 1947.

2. Thomas Montgomerie.[6]
Born 1914, died 1942.

2. Annie McKenzie Coats.[4]
Born 1860, died 1939.
Married 1859 to George Gordon King. Four children.
Born in Paisley, Scotland and came to New York to live sometime in the eighteen-seventies. Episcopalian.

1. Mary LeRoy King.[5]
Born 1892, died 1893.

2. Dorothy Gordon King.[5]
Born 1895. Married 1925 to Alexander Nelidow, who died in 1947. Two children.
He was originally in the Imperial Russian diplomatic service; after the first World War in business in New York. She was educated at the Spence School, New York. Russian Orthodox Church.

1. Irina Nelidow.[6]
Born 1928 in New York.
Chapin School and Bryn Mawr College.

2. Elisabeth Nelidow.[6]
Born 1929 in New York.
Chapin School, Bryn Mawr College.
Married 1957 to Guido Pantaleoni.

3. Violet Gordon King.[5]
Born 1897. Married 1931 to Ian H. P. McEwen.
Spence School, New York City. Episcopalian. Lives in New York.

4. Edward King.[5]
Born 1901.
Riverdale Country School. Episcopalian.
Interests: tennis, fishing. Lives in Pinehurst, North Carolina.

3. Alice Dudley Coats.[4]
Born 1861, died 1889.
Married 1885 to Theodore Frelinghuysen. Two children.

1. Frederick T. Frelinghuysen.[5]
Born 1886. Married Mai Duncan Watson 1914. Married Katherine Fisk 1927.

2. James Coats Frelinghuysen.[5]
Born 1888, died 1890.

4. Stuart Auchincloss Coats.[4]
Born 1868. Married 1891 to Jane Muir Greenlees. Three children.
Lives in England.

1. James Stuart Coats.[5]
Born 1894. Married 1917 to Amy Gordon Lennox. Four children.

1. Ian Coats.[6]
Born 1919.

2. Alastair Coats.[6]
Born 1921. Married 1947 to Lukyn Gordon. Two children.

1. Sarah Coats,[7] born 1948.

2. Alexander Coats,[7] born 1951.

3. Ivor Coats.[6]
Born 1923.

4. James Raymond Coats.[6]
Born 1928.

2. Muir Dudley Coats.[5]
Born 1899, died 1927.
Married 1922 to Audrey James. One child.

1. Peter Coats.[6]
Born 1923, died 1923.

3. Margaret Coats.[5]
Born 1901. Married 1928 to Viscount Knollys. Two children.

1. Ardyne Knollys.[6]
Born 1929.

2. David Knollys.[6]
Born 1931.

5. Alfred Manwaring Coats.[4]
Born 1869, died 1942.
Married 1895 to Elizabeth Barnewell. Three children.
Lived in Providence, Rhode Island, and New York City.
He lost the sight of one eye in a shooting accident and named his son after the friend who was responsible.

1. Archibald Coats.[5]
Born , died 1918 in U. S. Army in France.

2. Mabel Van Rensselaer Coats.[5]
Born 1899. Married 1923 to William B. MacColl. Two children.

1. Jean MacColl.[6]
Born 1924. Married 1951 to Albert Edward Hart, Jr. Three children.
Miss Hall's & Spence Schools.
Interests: golf and riding, very active with National Horse Show.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Lives in Cedarhurst, Long Island.

1. Gwynn MacColl Hart.[7]
Born 1953.

2. Deborah Coats Hart.[7]
Born 1954.

3. Jean Kirkland Hart.[7]
Born 1957.

Sarah Ann Auchincloss Coats

William Stuart Auchincloss

2. William B. MacColl, Jr.[6]
   Born 1928.
   Attended Brown University.
   War Service: In U. S. Navy as jet pilot 1950-1955.
   Occupation: Banker.
   Lives in San Francisco, California.

3. Elizabeth B. Coats.[5]
   Born 1902. Married 1922 to Kenneth MacColl. Two children. Divorced.

   1. Elizabeth Coats MacColl.[6]
      Born 1925. Married 1951 to Douglas Campbell, Jr. Two children.
      Lives in Grosse Point, Michigan.

      1. Douglas Campbell III.[7]
         Born 1953.

      2. Dwight Campbell.[7]
         Born 1955.

   2. Alfred Manwaring Coats MacColl.[6]
      Born 1931. Graduated from Trinity College.
      War Service: Army for two years.
      Occupation: Youngstown Kitchens.
      Lives in Youngstown, Ohio.

6. James Monro Coats.[4]
   Born 1875, died 1946. Lived in England.
   Married 1899 to Anne Caswell.

Sons of John Auchincloss[2] who died without issue.

3. John Stuart Auchincloss.[3]
   Born 1840, died 1842.

7. Frederic Lawton Auchincloss.[3]
   Born 1851, died 1878.

WILLIAM STUART AUCHINCLOSS[3] AND HIS DESCENDANTS

4. William Stuart Auchincloss.[3]

Born 1842, died 1928.

Married 1870 to Martha Tuthill Kent. Three children.

Graduated 1862 from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at the head of his class, with the degree of Civil Engineer.

1867, appointed by the U. S. Government as Commissioner to the Paris Exposition.

For several years he was connected with the Jersey City Locomotive Works, the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company, and the Ramapo Car and Foundry Company. After conducting the sale of the Jersey City Locomotive Works, he bought an interest in the Delaware Car Works, of Wilmington, and became Vice-President of the company.

1874, visited Brazil and built the rolling stock of the Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro Railway. In 1876, subsequent to his return to Wilmington, the Emperor of Brazil, Don Pedro II, visited the United States and was entertained at the Auchincloss home. While the Emperor was in this country he ordered a private car built by the Delaware Car Works, which was designed and built under William Auchincloss' supervision. This car was exhibited at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876 and received first prize.

1879, moved to Philadelphia, where he acted as agent for J. and P. Coats, thread manufacturers of Paisley, Scotland.

1903, retired from business and moved to Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey, on the shore of Sandy Hook Bay, where he lived until his death.

His tastes were decidedly mechanical, but, in later years, he devoted much of his time to literary work. He wrote a number of scientific treatises, and also some books of Biblical research. He was the inventor of an averaging machine, and received six patents for mechanical work.

He was most kindly, upright, and honorable in all his dealings, a devoted father, and a Christian gentleman.

Compiled from a memoir prepared by William K. Auchincloss[4] for the American Society of Civil Engineers.

1. JAMES STUART AUCHINCLOSS.[4]

Born 1872, died 1922.

Married 1899 to Hazel Hulbert. Two children.

Haverford 1890. Member of football and cricket teams.

Auditor on Lackawanna Railroad between New York and Scranton; later associated with N. W. Halsey & Co., bond house.

Very fond of hunting and fishing, tennis and golf.

Episcopalian and Republican. Lived in Orange, New Jersey.

1. WILLIAM STUART AUCHINCLOSS II.[5]

Born 1900. Married 1928 to Jean E. Schnell. Three children.

Cornell ex-1923. Publisher.

War Service: U. S. Tank Corps, North Carolina, part of 1918.

Episcopalian and Republican. Lives in Short Hills, New Jersey.

Interests: tennis, golf, "watching almost anything," photography.

1. JAMES STUART AUCHINCLOSS.[6]

Born 1929.

Married 1955 to Eva Seed. One child.

University of Virginia. Episcopalian and Republican.

War Service: U. S. Army 1951-1953. Served in Korea with 23rd Regimental Combat Team, 2nd Infantry Division. Started as a sniper and ended as a platoon sergeant. Served at Heartbreak Ridge, T-Bone Ridge, Pork Chop Hill and Old Baldy. Did some work with French Foreign Legion.

Interests: rowing, tennis, squash, and ice hockey. Refinishing furniture. Lives in Short Hills, New Jersey.

"Aside from rowing in the Henley Royal Regatta for Kent School in 1948, the only other experience that I consider an adventure was my time spent in Korea and Japan."

1. EVA STANDISH AUCHINCLOSS.[7]

Born 1957.

2. SARAH JANE AUCHINCLOSS.[6]

Born 1932. Associated with her father and brother in publishing.

3. KATHRYN HULBERT.[6]

Born 1936. Student at Sorbonne, Paris.

2. CLARA AUCHINCLOSS.[5]

Born 1909, died 1909.

2. JANE KENT AUCHINCLOSS.[4]

Born 1874, died 1949.

Married 1900 to Henry Adams Truslow. Nine children.

Lived in Summit, New Jersey.

"Mother did create a special kind of atmosphere on Bedford Road, in Summit, New Jersey. Her influence, through the Lindum Club, on six hundred children was startling. Grown men and women are constantly appearing at our farm with new stories of what mother did for them when they were little. At the peak of this 'hobby' she moved away to Lancaster, Pennsylvania, where Dad was Vice-President of the Armstrong Cork Co. For five years she adapted herself to the Pennsylvania Dutch, then back she went to Summit to build up an entirely different sort of life. Finally, in Dunedin, Florida, she found herself pretty much an invalid, but apparently she was still the same irrepressible Mother. When she lay dying, the most amazing collection of people would come to the door, asking for news of her, eager to tell us what Mother meant to them. them.

Mother based her whole life on the firm conviction that living was a treasure hunt. Gold was to be found in the most unexpected people. She would dig away at anyone who came along, which made each chance acquaintance feel rather flattered. But actually, if Mother found no true gold, no quality that was really worthwhile, she passed on; she simply was not interested. But if she felt someone had a redeeming trait, she would stick by that person through thick and thin. Her encouragement and her fearlessness are the two traits people seem to remember.

Her own children remember her ever-flowing generosity. Anything she had, she would share or give away without a second thought. She was a firm believer that money could help in most crises. Whenever her children were having a hard time, along would come some cash just to spend, to enjoy. Her troubles she could toss off, but she could not bear to let us suffer.

This is my idea of Mother."

Louise Truslow Grummon [5]

1. James Linklater Truslow.[5]

Born 1901.

Married 1928 to Frances Whitlock, who died in 1929. One son.

Married 1930 to Leigh Kendall. Three sons.

Mass. Institute of Technology 1922. Has been occupied with textiles and textile machinery ever since.

War Service: Navy Supply Corps 1942-1946. Served in Washington, Dakar, in North Atlantic convoys (U.S.S. Monticello, AP. 61) and on an intelligence mission in Germany in 1945. Went on inactive duty with rank of Captain. Decorated with Legion of Merit.

Occupation: Foreign representative of West Point Manufacturing Co. of West Point, Georgia. Has started two companies for them in England, of both of which he is director. Averages a transatlantic flight every five weeks. Has travelled in Europe, South America and Russia.

Episcopalian and Republican.

Hobbies: sailing, languages.

Lives in Pride's Crossing, Massachusetts.

1. Frank Fosdick Truslow.[6]
Born 1929.
Married 1951 to Jennifer Ann Bearcroft. Two children.
Cambridge University, England, 1950.
War Service: Captain U. S. Marines, Mediterranean Area.
Works for C. H. Sprague Co., Boston. Lives in Cambridge, Mass.

1. Michael Whitlock Truslow.[7]
Born 1953.

2. Sara Ann Truslow.[7]
Born 1955.

2. James Linklater Truslow, Jr.[6]
Born 1932.
Married 1955 to Pauline Hibbard. One child.
College: North Carolina State School of Textile Engineering.
War Service: Lieutenant U. S. Air Force. At present in Air Force.
Lives at Pride's Crossing, Massachusetts.

1. James Linklater Truslow III.[7]
Born 1956.

3. Godfrey Grosvenor Truslow.[6]
Born 1934.
Harvard 1956.
Ensign in Naval Reserve on active duty as chief engineering officer of destroyer Bradford. Based on San Diego after service in Far East. Home address, Pride's Crossing, Massachusetts.

4. David Buck Truslow.[6]
Born 1936.
College: Boston University, North Carolina State School of Textile Engineering.
Has been twice to Bermuda under sail, and along the coast as far as Newfoundland. Home address, Pride's Crossing, Massachusetts.

2. Frederick Kent Truslow.[5]
Born 1902.
Married 1925 to Mildred P. MacCutcheon. Two children.
Columbia University, one year.
Occupation: retired as Vice-President of General Cable Corporation of New York City.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Lives in Summit, New Jersey, and Homestead, Florida.
Interests are hunting, fishing, and wild life photography.

1. Kent MacCutcheon Truslow.[6]
Born 1927.
Married 1951 to Maxine Ratcliff. Three children.
Washington and Lee College 1950.
War Service: U. S. Air Force, June 1945-December 1946.
Occupation: Printer.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Interests: hunting, fishing.
Lives in Charlotte, North Carolina.

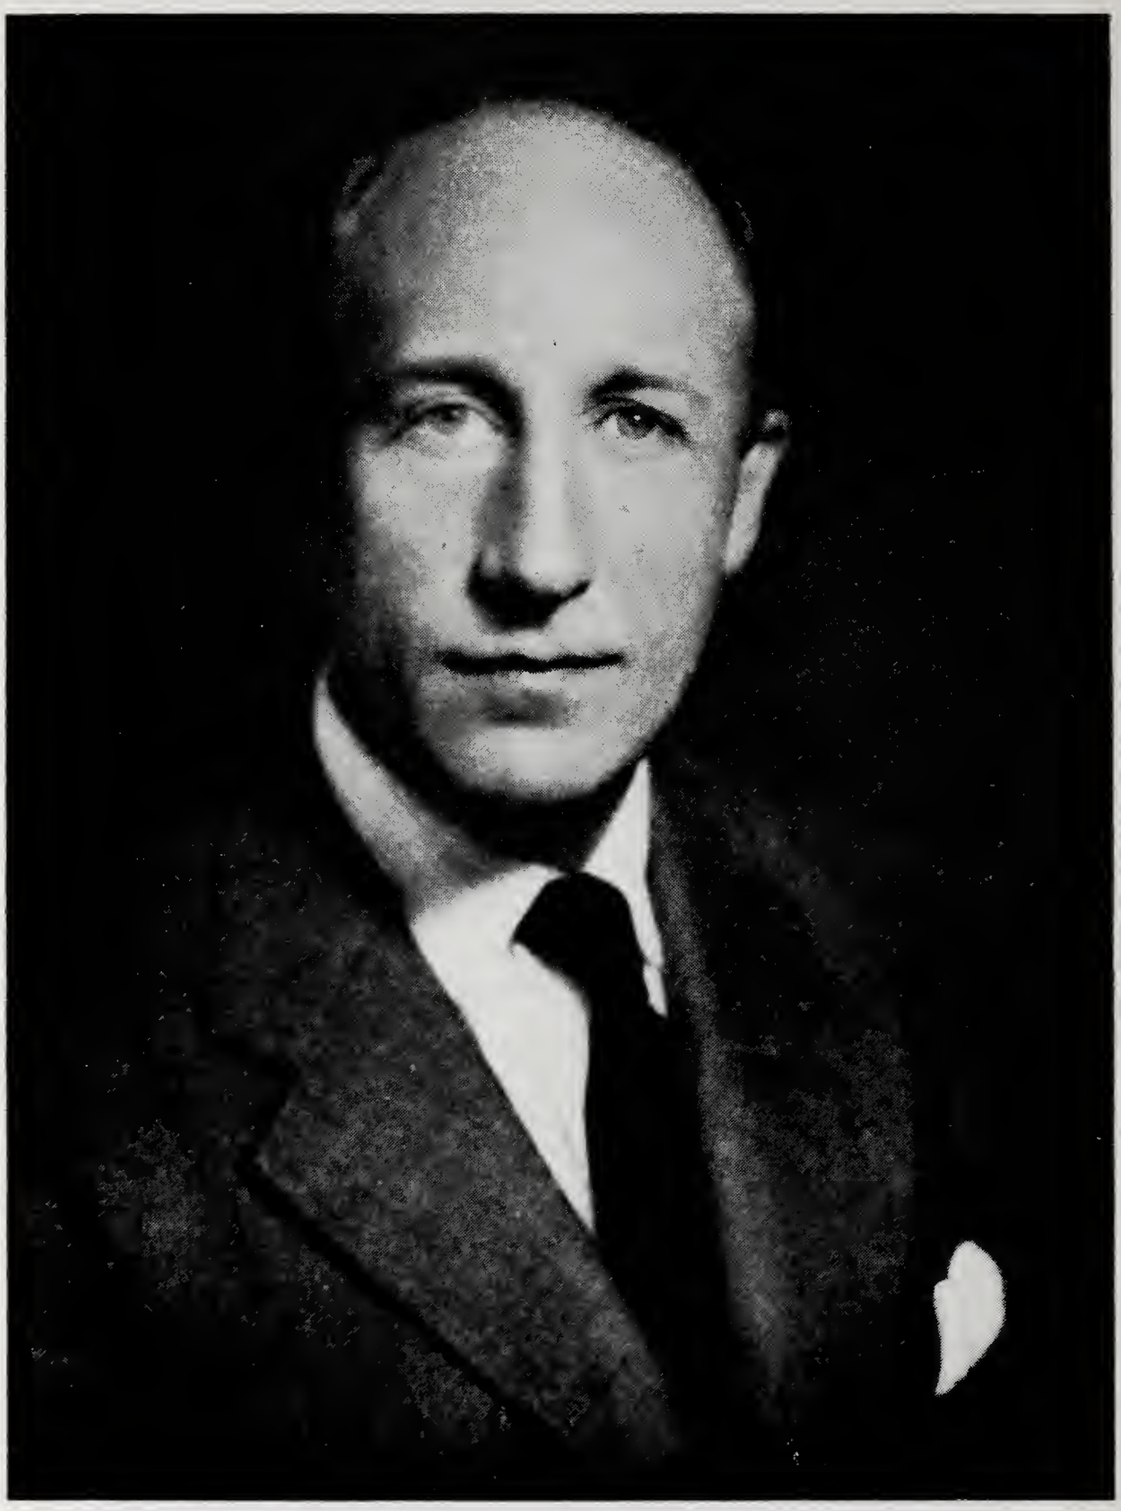
1. James Stuart Truslow.[7]
Born 1952.

2. Kathryn Pierson Truslow.[7]
Born 1954.

3. Kent McRae Truslow.[7]
Born 1955.

Jane Auchincloss Truslow

with Elizabeth



Francis Adams Truslow

2. STUART AUCHINCLOSS TRUSLOW.[6]
   Born 1930.
   Married 1954 to Helen J. Stevens.
   College: Washington and Lee, left for military service.
   War Service: 1951-1956. Air Force, jet pilot. Area: United States, Japan, Alaska.
   Occupation: Pilot, Eastern Airlines.
   Episcopalian and Republican.
   Interests: tennis, hunting, flying.
   Lives in Summit, New Jersey.

3. WILLIAM AUCHINCLOSS TRUSLOW.[5]
   Born 1904, died 1950.
   Married 1930 to Frances Charlotte Ray. Three children.
   University of Pennsylvania 1925.
   Occupation: personnel and labor relations.
   Episcopalian and Republican.
   Lived in Dunedin, Florida.

   1. JANE AUCHINCLOSS TRUSLOW.[6]
      Born 1932.
      Smith College 1955.

   2. WILLIAM AUCHINCLOSS TRUSLOW.[6] } Twins
   3. ROBERT GURDON TRUSLOW.[6] }
      Born 1936.
      Yale 1958.

4. FRANCIS ADAMS TRUSLOW.[5]
   Born 1906, died 1951.
   Married 1933 to Elizabeth Auchincloss Jennings. Four children.
   Yale 1928. Harvard Law School 1932.
   Commenced practice of law in New York City. In 1934 participated in the development of regulations and procedures under the Securities Exchange Act, and in 1942 became general counsel to the Curb Exchange. In 1946 he was elected to the presidency of the Curb Exchange.
   War Service: 1942-1945. Was in charge of United States Government operations for wild rubber procurement in South America, especially in Peru, where his family joined him for nearly two years. Received the decoration "El Solde Peru" from the Peruvian government in recognition of his war work.

1944. Became president of the Rubber Development Corporation, the work of which was carried on in sixteen countries of the Western Hemisphere as well as in Africa and the Far East. Served on inter-American and international conferences and committees.

Died at sea on his way to Brazil to act as American Minister in charge of the joint U. S.-Brazil Mission on Economic Affairs.

Episcopalian and Republican.

Lived in New York City.

Interests: carpentry, mountain climbing, tennis, golf.

1. Francis Adams Truslow, Jr.[6]

   Born 1938.
   At Yale.

2. Frederic Jennings Truslow.[6]

   Born 1939.
   At Yale.

3. Elizabeth Buck Truslow.[6]

   Born 1941.

4. Sophia Day Truslow.[6]

   Born 1945.

5. Elizabeth Auchincloss Truslow.[5]

   Born 1908.
   Married 1938 to William Morris Greenwood. Three children.
   Monmouth Memorial School of Nursing, R.N. 1938.
   Episcopalian and Democrat.

   Interested in sports cars, and attends Sports Car Club rallies. Grows dwarf or "ming" trees. Has a six-year-old Chinese evergreen, twenty inches high, grown from seed — now a mature tree.

   Lives in Fort Pierce, Florida.

   1. William Morris Greenwood III.[6]

      Born 1939, died 1946.

   2. Elizabeth Adams Greenwood.[6]

      Born 1944.

   3. Bruce Davies Greenwood.[6]

      Born 1949.

6. Martha Tuthill Truslow.[5]

Born 1910. Twin.

Married 1933 to Georges Christian Boudery. Two children.

Presbyterian. Lives in St. Jean d' Angelys, Ch. Inf., France.

"Pat's most obvious adventure was her escape from France in May, 1940, after a week's bombing in Royon. She drove a car down through the Pyrenees and into Spain at Bilbao, where a business friend of Dad's, a Spaniard, was wonderful to her. Not having driven a car for ten years, it was quite a trip. She was accompanied by a Jewish-American man whom she had never seen before the night of escape (and by her small daughter). He proved a true friend though unable to drive a car. Pat crossed into Spain two hours before the Nazis closed the border. Thanks to a cable from Frank, Pat took off when she did. She feels that the entire trip was too weirdly auspicious to be entirely luck. She was able to get gasoline in the Pyrenees because a French friend's husband was in charge of rationing at the tiny village. At La Hendaye another person took her in when the entire city was covered with refugees sleeping on the sidewalks. Pat reached U. S. A. in time to have her second baby in peace and quiet.

Pat's husband served as a captain in World War II. He was captured in the 1940 push and held prisoner until the end of the war. Then the Russians "liberated" him, put him in a box car and dragged him around Russia. Viewed through a chink in this locked car Christian's view of Russia was limited but revealing. Then he escaped his liberators in Berlin and WALKED home to Royon near Bordeaux, to discover his little house bombed to smithers. Meantime Pat was staying with Mother in Summit, with her two children. Christian took ship to U. S. A., where he taught French in Stanford University until 1952, when he and Pat returned with their children to France."

Louise Truslow Grummon [5]

1. Jacqueline Louise Boudery.[6]

Born 1937.

Studies languages at the School of Interpreters, Sorbonne, Paris.

2. Anne Truslow Boudery.[6]

Born 1940.

7. Louise Adams Truslow.[5]
Born 1910. Twin.
Married 1936 to Robert Grummon. Six children.
Episcopalian. Lives at Gray Goose Farm, Jaffrey, New Hampshire, which seems a great adventure after a sedate childhood in the suburbs. She and her husband have gardens and greenhouses as a "business and a passion." They have a hearty welcome for all "little cousins."

1. Robert Auchincloss Grummon.[6]
Born, 1937.
Yale 1959 — pre-medical.

2. Louise Truslow Grummon.[6]
Born 1939.
At Wooster College, Ohio.

3. Joanna Edgar Grummon.[6]
Born 1942.

4. Daniel Neil Grummon.[6]
Born 1944.

5. Carolyn Kent Grummon.[6]
Born 1947.

6. Frances Meeker Grummon.[6]
Born 1948.

8. John Winthrop Truslow.[5]
Born 1913. Twin.
Married 1938 to Merrie Sackett. One child.
Episcopalian and Republican. University of Pennsylvania 1935.
War Service: 1942 Air Transport Command Pilot, 1943-1946 Supply Officer U.S.S. Hornet, Pacific Area; 1950-1954 Supply Officer U.S.S. Wasp, Korean Area.
Present occupation: Contracting Officer, U. S. Air Force.
Interests: flying, tennis, shooting, fishing, carpentry, wood carving, and pistol marksmanship.
Lives in Atlanta, Georgia.
"In the twenty-six years during which I have held a commercial aircraft pilot's license, I have flown most types of aircraft in racing, stunt flying and airlines. My luck held in twenty-five forced landings without damage. Combat duty as a naval officer in two wars added some interesting experiences."

1. JOHN WINTHROP TRUSLOW, JR.[6]
Born 1941.

9. HENRY ADAMS TRUSLOW.[5]
Born 1913. Twin.
Married 1937 to Cora Whitin. Four children.
New York Military Academy.
President and Treasurer of Ponemah Mills.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Interest: horses.
Lives in Taftville, Connecticut, and Westport Harbor, Massachusetts.

1. HENRY ADAMS TRUSLOW III.[6]
Born 1939.

2. NINA CARTER TRUSLOW.[6]
Born 1941.

3. NANCY WHITIN TRUSLOW.[6]
Born 1946.

4. BARBARA AUCHINCLOSS TRUSLOW.[6]
Born 1948.

3. WILLIAM KENT AUCHINCLOSS.[4]
Born 1877.
Cornell 1899 M.E.
World War I Service: Shell work for American Car & Foundry Co., Detroit, Michigan. Also gun cars, Russian Railway equipment (one thousand all steel box cars) for same company.
Occupation: Engineer's department, Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, engineering work for Westinghouse, Church, Kerr and Co., N. Y. C., and Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh, twenty years American Car and Foundry Company.
Presbyterian and Republican.
Retired. Lives in New York City.
Holds patent on tank car anchor for A. C. and F. Co., and insulated dome cover used on their standard cars.
Interests: investments, tennis, boating; was for thirty-three years member of the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, New York.

Elizabeth Ellen Auchincloss[3]

"Aunt Ellie."

Born 1844, died 1925.

Aunt Ellie was the fairy godmother of our childhood, from whom flowed birthday, Christmas and Easter presents galore, as well as good times. She replenished the "Precious Drawer" with all sorts of fascinating small gifts, and kept the doll's house in her bookcase up to date.

She took care of "Grandma," and was the perfect example of selflessness and generosity in a very clannish and long-lived family. We all remember her with love and veneration, and pride to have been privileged to call her "Aunt Ellie."

Her greatest interests were the family and her church, and the New York City Orphan Asylum (now called the Graham School), and of course, Grandma. She loved to talk family gossip, and lots of genealogical history died with her. Like Grandma, she was always knitting socks and blankets for the new family babies. She was a truly out-giving lady.

Elizabeth Auchincloss Jennings [4]

Elizabeth Ellen Auchincloss
Aunt Ellie as a girl

Aunt Ellie as we knew her
(with Joanna R. Auchincloss, her sister-in-law)

Edgar Stirling Auchincloss

EDGAR STIRLING AUCHINCLOSS[3] AND HIS DESCENDANTS

6. Edgar Stirling Auchincloss.[3]
Born 1847, died 1892.
Married 1872 to Maria La Grange Sloan. Eight children.
Received from College of Arts and Pure Science (now New York University) special diploma in 1864. Ranked fifth in junior class.

"My father died when I was six years old. However, I have studied up about him a bit, and can say that he had a strong wiry build and was fond of boxing. He would box at 11 West 57th Street with friends in an upstairs room when Grandma, Aunt Ellie and the others were off in Newport for the summer. I learned this from letters he wrote my mother during their courtship. I believe he was the only member of the family present when Grandpa Auchincloss (whom I never knew) died on a fishing trip in Canada. He loved hunting and fishing, was a mighty hard worker and a smart businessman. He and Uncle Hugh bought the sloop yacht Katrina, and enjoyed sailing her at every opportunity, Father finally buying out Uncle Hugh's share. I understand he took up sailing to be out in the open because the doctor said he had "weak lungs." He had a lot of courage and was an independent soul, especially in business. At one time he resigned as a director of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad against the wishes of his father-in-law, Samuel Sloan, who was the president. I understand the resignation stuck even though there was some argument, Father maintaining that he would not be a "rubber stamp." He was loyal to his friends and he seemed to have many of them. Uncle John and Uncle Hugh told me on many occasions how fond and proud they were of him."

James C. Auchincloss [4]

Although lack of space prevents our paying adequate attention to all the in-laws, it seems important to mention the great respect and affection felt for Aunt Maria by all who knew her. Left a widow with eight children, ranging in age from nineteen years to one year, seven of them boys, she raised a family to be proud of. Losing her only daughter suddenly, at twenty-seven years old, she survived that shock and lived to have many grandchildren, and to be the warm center of her family.

C. A. F.

1. Samuel Sloan Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1873, died 1934.

Married 1898 to Annie S. Agnew (d. 1905). One son.

Married 1910 (?) to Emma Agnes Guidet.

Married 1918 to Anna M. Christian.

War Service: World War I, attended all Plattsburg Camps, prior to war, overseas with Ordnance Department U. S. A. Stationed at Brest, France. Rank of major.

Lived in New York City.

1. Samuel Sloan Auchincloss, Jr.[5]

Born 1903.

Married 1927 to Dorothy Milburn. One son.

Married 1939 to Lydia Knight Garrison. Two sons.

Attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

War Service: September 1940-August 1942, Signal officer, 44th Infantry Division. August 1942-April 1943, Signal officer, 1st Army Corps in New Guinea. April 1943-November 1945, deputy chief Signal officer for General Douglas MacArthur from Melbourne to Tokyo. Rank of Colonel. Decorations: D.S.M., Legion of Merit, Silver Star, Bronze Star, Five Battle Stars, Unit Citation with Oak Leaf, Pacific and American Theater Service Ribbons.

Occupation: President, Cleveland Welding Division, American Machine and Foundry Company.

Interests: skin diving, cameras, model railroads.

Presbyterian and Republican.

Lives in Dedham, Massachusetts.

1. Robert Gordon Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1931.

Williams College 1953. Now at Harvard Business School.

War Service: U. S. Navy. Navigation officer on D.D.E. Cony in Atlantic and Mediterranean with U. S. Sixth Fleet. Rank of Lieutenant j.g.

2. Philip Sloan Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1940.

3. Samuel Sloan Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1942.

2. Edgar Stirling Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1874, died 1910.
Married 1899 to Marie Louise Mott (d. 1899).
Married 1903 to Catherine S. Agnew. Four children.
Yale 1896.
Occupation, broker.
Lived in New York City.

1. Mary Bliss Auchincloss.[5]

Born 1904.
Married 1933 to Nelson L. Page. Three children.
Brearley School, N. Y., and Child Education Foundation.
Taught nursery school before marriage.
Presbyterian and Republican.
Lives at Darien, Connecticut.
Has travelled to Mexico, Central Greece via donkey, Kenya and Uganda.
Sports interests are antique automobiles and cheering her three children in swimming meets and tennis matches.

1. David Nelson Page.[6]

Born 1937.
At Brown University, taking a combined Engineering and Liberal Arts Course. A.B. and Sc.B. in five years.

2. Catherine Agnew Page.[6]

Born 1938.
At Skidmore College, in Physical Education Department.

3. John France Page.[6]

Born 1942.

2. Elizabeth Ellen Auchincloss.[5]

Born 1905.
Married 1940 to Gordon M. Tiffany. Adopted two children.
Vassar College 1927.
War Service: worked as farmhand for six months, in aircraft factory at Los Angeles for two months, in Signal Corps, U. S. A. as civilian in Washington for six months.
Presbyterian and Republican.
Spent seven years in rural China (1929-1937) with Chinese Mass Education Movement under Dr. Y. C. James Yen.

Interests: politics (League of Women Voters), public schools, mental health
Sports: skiing, trout fishing, tennis.
Husband was Attorney General of New Hampshire during Sherman Adams' second term.
Lives in Concord, New Hampshire.

1. William Fox Tiffany.[6]
   Born 1946.

2. Jean Gordon Tiffany.[6]
   Born 1948.

3. Katrina Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1907.
   Married 1937 to Royal E. Mygatt (d. 1948). Four children.
   Vassar College 1930.
   Interests: tennis, baseball, swimming, skiing. Music and art — participated in by whole family.
   Episcopalian and Republican.
   Lives at Stamford, Connecticut.

   1. Joseph Royal Mygatt.[6]
      Born 1940.
      At Princeton.

   2. Elizabeth Mygatt.[6]
      Born 1941.

   3. Samuel Mygatt.[6]
      Born 1943.

   4. Peter Mygatt.[6]
      Born 1945.

4. Edgar Stirling Auchincloss III.[5]
   Born 1909.
   Married 1931 to Patty Milburn. Four children.
   Yale 1932.
   Protestant and Republican.
   Occupation: Country club construction and management.
   Lives in Darien, Connecticut.
   "All Auchinclosses are welcome guests at the Country Club of Darien after 1958. Greens fees and guest charges will be strictly on a 'cash in advance' basis."

Samuel Sloan Auchincloss

Hugh Auchincloss, M.D.

1. Edgar Stirling Auchincloss IV.[6]
   Born 1933.
   At Marietta College, Ohio.
   Served three years as enlisted man in the U. S. Marine Corps.
   Protestant and Republican.
2. George Milburn Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1935.
   At Colby College, Maine.
   Served two years as enlisted (draftee) in U. S. Army.
   Protestant and Republican.
3. Patty Milburn Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1939.
   Graduated 1957 from Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y.
4. Elizabeth Ellen Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1943.
   Fourth of the name.

3. Elizabeth Ellen Auchincloss.[4]
   Born 1877, died 1904.
4. Hugh Auchincloss.[4]
   Born 1878, died 1947.
   Married 1908 to Frances C. Newlands. Four children.
   Yale 1901. Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons 1905.
   Practiced surgery in New York City.
   Presbyterian and Republican.

Father graduated from Yale in 1901 and from Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1905. Instead of accepting a proffered internship at Presbyterian Hospital that same year, he took a year out, which he spent abroad with his mother who was recovering from the shock of the sudden death of his sister Ellie.

In 1906 he began his internship at Roosevelt Hospital on the service of Dr. Joseph Blake, whose teaching and surgical skill certainly had the most profound effect on all of my father's later thinking.

It was a lucky chance that sent him to Roosevelt, for it was there that he met Frances Newlands, a head nurse on the surgical service, whom he married in 1908. Her devotion to him was only matched by her loyalty to the profession in which they both served. It would have been impossible for him to have accomplished what he did without her patient understanding and willingness to accommodate her life and that of her family to the unpredictable and time-consuming demands of his work.

My father's greatest interest lay in the precise pathology of surgical diseases and he was largely instrumental in organizing the Surgical Pathology laboratory at Presbyterian Hospital. His three greatest interests in the field of general surgery were cancer of the breast, infections of the hand, and the management of acute appendicitis. He nearly lost his own arm from a very serious hand infection which occurred during his training at Roosevelt Hospital.

In 1921 he became Chief of the Second Surgical Division at Presbyterian Hospital and held that position, along with the title of Professor of Clinical Surgery at the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, until his retirement in 1946.

He loved the outdoors, but especially the sports that went with it — rowing and football in college — and later, tennis, golf, sailing and fishing. He built a workshop on the roof of his home in New York and spent countless hours making gadgets, drawing meticulous medical illustrations and, when the children were little, developing pictures of them.

If there was one man who influenced his life more than any other, it was Endicott Peabody, headmaster of Groton School. His father died when he was a second-former at Groton, and the effect that Dr. Peabody's powerful personality had on his life thereafter was obvious to all who knew them both. It was, therefore, a source of immense satisfaction to him that in later years he was chosen a Trustee of the School.

Hugh Auchincloss, M.D.[5]

EDITORIAL FROM THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

If the art of healing has not long since given way to the science of medicine, it is because men like Dr. Hugh Auchincloss have been able to demonstrate that the two were not hostile. He was a surgeon whose technical skill gave him the ability to venture, and his radical contributions over a period of twenty years to the surgery of breast cancer have meant life for thousands of women. But more than that, he was a doctor who remembered always that he dealt with men and women rather than with infections and diseases. In the glittering austerity of the operating room, it is sometimes difficult to realize that affection and friendship can sometimes cure more surely than the surgeon's knife, but Dr. Auchincloss always knew it and was glad for it, because affection and friendship were a part of his character.

He had been in retirement from Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for a year when he died Sunday, and the skill of his hand had already been established as a legacy. Because he was skillful, he was bold; because he was bold, it no longer requires courage to tread the paths he pioneered. The removal of an entire breast was a desperate recourse when Dr. Auchincloss first performed it; today it is the customary treatment for certain forms of breast cancer. This, and other contributions, will remain. His death is a loss to the medical profession, but more than that, a loss to all those who turn to doctors for help. His spiritual qualities were a part of his skill; his rare technical skill took its force from his qualities as a man.

1. Frances Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1909.
   Married 1930 to Thomas W. Armitage. Two children.
   Married 1947 to Felix A. Mulgrew. One child.
   Chapin and Westover Schools.
   Community work (Junior League president). City Civilian Defense.
   Episcopalian and Republican.
   Lives in New York City.
   Husband was four years in U. S. Navy, navigator on aircraft carrier Bismarck Sea, sunk at Iwo Jima. After six hours in the water he was picked up by a destroyer.

   1. Arthur Lansdell Armitage.[6]
      Born 1932.
      Married 1955 to Meredyth Rubidge. One son.
      Yale 1954.
      Banker.
      Episcopalian and Republican.
      Lives in Rumson, New Jersey.
      Rowed on Yale Varsity Crew 1954. Won A. S. Blagden Cup in rowing.

      1. David L.[7]
         Born 1955.

   2. Frances Armitage.[6]
      Born 1934.
      Married 1956 to Allen Earle Whitman III. One son.
      Vassar, ex-1956.
      Interests: sailing, tennis, swimming.
      Episcopalian and Republican.
      Lives at Wawa, Pennsylvania.

1. Allen Earle Whitman IV.[7]
   Born 1957.

3. Ann Stuart Mulgrew.[6]
   Born 1947.

2. Maria Sloan Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1910.
   Married 1934 to Allen M. Look. Four children.
   Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing 1932.
   Industrial nursing for nearly two years.
   Presbyterian and Republican.
   Interested in baseball and tennis.
   Has recently moved from New York City to Rye, New York.
   Present occupation: packaging and distributing from home a gadget, imported from Germany, called I-Snips (an ice-cracking bar). In two years sold about 25,000. An interesting experience in merchandising. School nurse in the morning at Rye Country Day School.

   1. Barbara Ann Look.[6]
      Born 1936.
      Graduate Bradford Junior College. Student nurse at Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing.

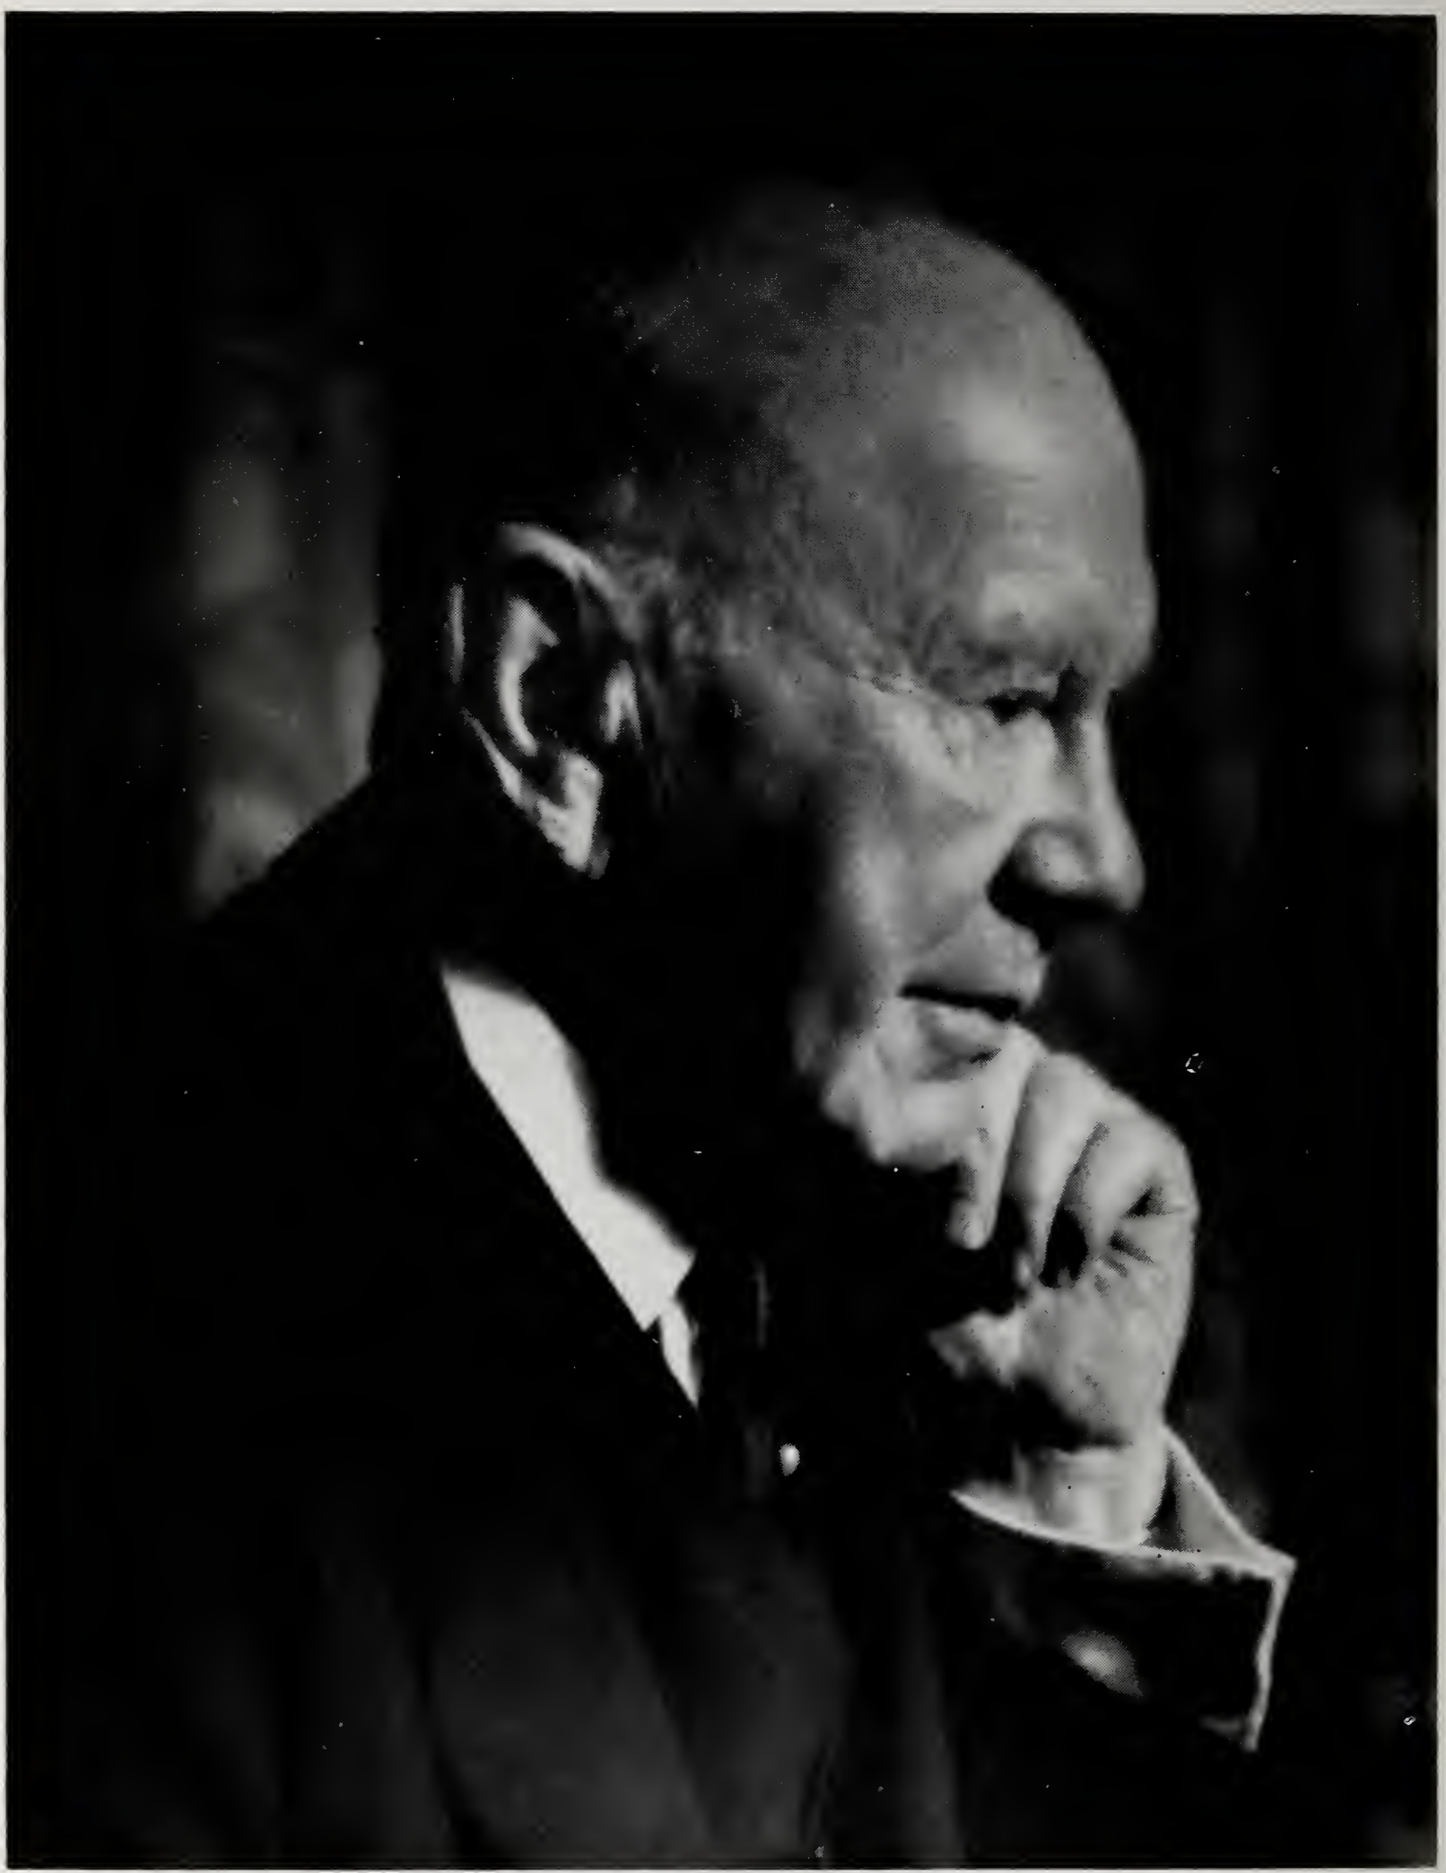
   2. Maria Sloan Look.[6]
      Born 1940.

   3. Allen M. Look, Jr.[6]
      Born 1945.

   4. Daniel Cleveland Look.[6]
      Born 1949.

3. Hugh Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1915.
   Married 1942 to Katharine Lawrence Bundy. Four children.
   Yale 1938.
   Occupation: Surgeon.
   War Service: U. S. Navy, Medical Corps, 1943-1946, South Atlantic Area.
   Episcopalian.
   Interests: tennis and golf.
   Lives in Ridgewood, New Jersey.

FREDERIC LAWTON AUCHINCLOSS



Charles C. Auchincloss

1. Katharine Lawrence Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1943.

2. Margaret Elmendorf Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1946.

3. Hugh Auchincloss, Jr.[6]
   Born 1949.

4. Elizabeth Lowell Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1951.

4. Barbara Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1918.
   Married 1942 to Thomas Thacher. Six children.
   Bryn Mawr 1940.
   Presbyterian and Democrat.
   Occupation, 1940-1944: Newspaper work with Newsweek and New York Times. At present, some children's book reviewing and general local endeavors.
   Interests: tennis and golf. Adventures: "existence. Trip west in 1956 with all but Andrew."
   Lives in Riverdale, New York City.

   1. Barbara Burrall Thacher.[6]
      Born 1943.

   2. Elizabeth Coverdale Thacher.[6]
      Born 1945.

   3. Thomas Day Thacher II.[6]
      Born 1946.

   4. Hugh Auchincloss Thacher.[6]
      Born 1948.

   5. Peter Anthony Thacher.[6]
      Born 1950.

   6. Andrew Thacher.[6]
      Born 1955.

5. Charles Crooke Auchincloss.[4]
   Born 1881.
   Married 1906 to Rosamond Saltonstall. Three children.
   Yale 1903. Harvard Law School 1906.

Practiced law until 1917. At present member of firm F. S. Moseley & Co.

War Service: World War I. Captain, Officers Reserve Corps 1917. Field Artillery Officers Training Camp, Louisville, Kentucky.

World War II: Chairman Officers Service Committee.

Presbyterian and Republican.

Interests: golf, bird shooting, books. World traveller.

Has been treasurer of the Prison Association of New York for many years.

Listed as a world traveller, Charles Auchincloss surely ranks among the most travelled. A casual listing of the places he has visited would include Alaska, Honolulu, England, Scotland, Ireland, Spain, Italy, Sweden, Holland, Switzerland, Turkey, Greece, Iran, Pakistan, Formosa, Hong Kong, Korea, Japan, Nairobi, Victoria Falls, Bulawago and Cairo. He numbers among his friends generals and admirals, ambassadors and presidents. He has dined with Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, with President Syngman Rhee and with the Patriarch of the Greek Church in Athens. And he is the only Auchincloss ever to be photographed with an elephant.

"My life has been just wonderful. I've had a very happy life and I'm enjoying it to the full right now."

1. Rosamond Saltonstall Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1907.
   Married 1929 to Burton J. Lee, Jr. Four children.
   Married 1954 to Thomas C. Plowden-Wardlaw.
   Chapin and Farmington Schools.
   War Service: Two years as Nurse's Aid at Glen Cove Hospital, N. Y.
   Episcopalian and Republican.
   Interests: golf and gardening.
   Lives in Loudonville, New York.

   1. Burton James Lee III.[6]
      Born 1930. Twin.
      Married 1953 to Pauline Herzog. Two children.
      Yale 1952. Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons 1956.
      At present interne at Bellevue Hospital, New York City.

      1. Burton James Lee IV.[7]
         Born 1954.

      2. Jacqueline La Grange Lee.[7]
         Born 1956.

1822537

2. Rosamond Saltonstall Lee.[6]
Born 1930. Twin.
Married 1950 to Francis Irenée du Pont II. Four children.
Lives at Kinston, North Carolina.

1. Augustus Irenée du Pont.[7]
Born 1951.
2. Emile Francis du Pont.[7]
Born 1952.
3. Maria Sloan du Pont.[7]
Born 1954.
4. Sophie Gay du Pont.[7]
Born 1955.

3. Susannah Manwaring Lee.[6]
Born 1932.
Married 1955 to Dr. John Lunt. Two children.
Graduated 1955 from Columbia Presbyterian School of Nursing and has nursed at Presbyterian Hospital since her graduation. tion.
Lives in New York City.

1. John Glenn Lunt.[7]
Born 1957. Twin.
2. Alexander Kirby Lunt.[7]
Born 1957. Twin.

4. Mary Josephine Lee.[6]
Born 1937.
Has had two years at Smith College and is taking her junior year at the University of Florence, Italy. Majoring in music. Address, Loudonville, New York.

2. Richard Saltonstall Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1909.
Married 1939 to Mary King Wainwright. Three children.
Yale 1932.
War Service: U. S. Navy 1942-1945: U. S. 1942-1944. U.S.S. Wasp, Pacific Area 1945.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Interests: golf, tennis, fox hunting, sailing. Has cruised from Maine to Chesapeake.
Lives in Malvern, Pennsylvania.

1. Charles Crook Auchincloss II.[6]
   Born 1940.

2. Richard Saltonstall Auchincloss, Jr.[6]
   Born 1941.

3. Thomas Fraser Dixon Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1944.

3. Josephine Lee Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1912.
   Married 1932-1948 to Benjamin C. Betner, Jr. Three children.
   Chapin and Foxcroft Schools.
   Protestant and Republican.
   Interests: fox hunting, Joint M.F.H. Pickering Hunt, golf, plays on third team at Gulph Mills in Philadelphia ladies team matches, tennis, painting, bridge.
   Whole family is interested in riding and hunt together whenever possible.

   1. Josephine Lee Betner.[6]
      Born 1933.
      Bennett Junior College.
      Receptionist at Ford Foundation.
      Lives in New York City.

   2. Nina Auchincloss Betner.[6]
      Born 1936.
      Foxcroft School 1953.
      Receptionist at Darcy Advertising Agency.
      Lives in New York City.

   3. Cynthia Ballard Betner.[6]
      Born 1941.

6. James Coats Auchincloss.[4]
   Born 1885.
   Married 1909 to Lee Frances Alexander. Two children.
   Yale 1908.
   War Service: World War I, 1917-1918. Captain Military Intelligence, Washington, D. C.
   Occupation: Member of Congress.
   Presbyterian and Republican.
   Lives in Alexandria, Virginia.

Daniel Buck House and Wethersfield Elm

John Winthrop Auchincloss

Interests: American glass, horticulture, cartoons, baseball, tennis.
Served on Board of Governors of New York Stock Exchange for eighteen years. Was deputy police commissioner of New York City. Was treasurer, president and chairman of board of Better Business Bureau. Served for twelve years as member of council of Borough of Rumson, New Jersey, and was serving third term as mayor when elected to Seventy-eighth Congress. Re-elected to Seventy-ninth, Eightieth, Eighty-first, Eighty-second, Eighty-third, Eighty-fourth and Eighty-fifth Congresses

1. James Douglas Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1913.
Married 1935 to Eleanor Grant. Four children.
Married 1946 to Evelyn Grantham. One child.
Married 1956 to Lily van Ameringen.
Yale ex 1936.
War Service: O.W.I. Washington 1943. Psychological Warfare Division SHAEF, ETO, 1943-1945.
Occupation: Journalist.
Lives in New York City.

1. Kenneth Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1937.
At Harvard University.

2. Gail Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1939.

3. David Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1943. Twin.

4. Lee Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1943. Twin.

5. Juliet Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1947.

2. Gordon Auchincloss II.[5]
Born 1917.
Married 1938 to Jane Harper Sibley. Three children.
Yale ex 39.
War Service: 1943-1945, ended up Captain, AUS. In England and China, Burma, India Theater (mostly China).
Episcopalian and quasi-Republican.
Occupation: Writer, producer, radio and TV.
Lives in Millbrook, New York.

1. Stuart Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1939.
   At Stanford University.

2. Gordon Sibley Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1941.

3. Sibley Anne Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1942.

7. Gordon Auchincloss.[4]
   Born 1886, died 1943.
   Married 1912 to Janet House. Two children.
   Yale 1908, Harvard Law School 1911.
   Occupation: Lawyer.
   Interests: golf and fishing.
   Lived in New York City.
   "Gordon could not get in either the army or the navy in World War I on account of his eyes. He worked as a dollar-a-year man in the State Department until my father (Colonel Edward M. House) asked to have him attached to him as his private secretary. He went to Europe the early auutmn before the Peace Conference and was in Paris until about June 1919."
   Janet H. Auchincloss.

1. Louise Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1914.
   Married 1935 to Edward H. Robbins. Two children.
   Husband killed in action, July 1944.
   Married 1947 to Allston Boyer.
   Chapin and Foxcroft Schools.
   War Service: Nurses Aide 1941-1945 (Washington and New York).
   Occupation: Executive in office of Nelson A. Rockefeller.
   Sports interest: golf.
   Presbyterian and Democrat.
   Lives in New York City.

1. Edward House Robbins.[6]
   Born 1940.

2. Gordon Auchincloss Robbins.[6]
   Born 1942.

2. Edward House Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1929.
Married 1955 to Justine Eaton. One child.
Yale 1951. Columbia 1954.
War Service: U. S. Army 1954-1956 in North Carolina, Hawaii and Vietnam.
Occupation: Lawyer.
Episcopalian and Democrat.
Sports interest: golf and tennis.
Lives in New York City.

1. Justine Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1957.

8. Reginald La Grange Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1891.
Married 1916 to Ruth Cutting (d. 1948). Five children.
Yale 1913.
War Service: World War I, 1918, Naval Aviation pilot, U.S.A. area.
Occupation: Research in chemistry.
Presbyterian and Republican.
Lives in New York City.
Sports: golf and swimming. Hobby: painting in oils.
"Ruth and I were instrumental in hurrying up use of the Sulfa Drugs in 1936. We heard about their use in England in July 1936 and sent Dr. John Lockwood to England to bring back a report."

1. Reginald La Grange Auchincloss, Jr.[5]
Born 1917.
Married 1943 to Esther M. Willcox. Two children.
Married 1953 to June Finn. Divorced.
Yale 1940.
Occupation: Broker.
War Service: 1940-1945, U. S. Naval Reserve, Pacific and Atlantic Theaters. Mustered out with rank of Lieutenant-Commander.
Protestant and Republican.
Interests: golf, riding, tennis, fishing, swimming, photography.
Lives in New York City.

1. Eve La Grange Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1945.

2. Sandra Cutting Auchincloss.[6]
Born 1947.

2. Ruth Auchincloss.[5]

Born 1918.
Married 1950 to Lt.-Com. Edward A. J. Collard, R.N., retired. Three children.
Chapin School, New York City.
War Service: 1942-1943, American Women's Volunteer Service. 1943-1944, American Red Cross Overseas Service in New Guinea.
Episcopalian and Democrat.
Interests: gardening, golf, horseracing.
Lives in Snetterton, Norwich, England.

1. Louise Sloan Collard.[6]

Born 1950.

2. David Cutting Collard.[6]

Born 1952.

3. Peter Edward Collard.[6]

Born 1955.

3. Bayard Cutting Auchincloss.[5]

Born 1922.
Married 1950 to Mary Christy Pratt. Four children.
Harvard 1945.
War Service: from January 1943 to May 1945. Fighter pilot, ETO; 1944, 6½ enemy aircraft destroyed.
Occupation: Teacher.
Episcopalian and Republican.
Interests: fine arts, photography, swimming.
Lives in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.
President and director of Auchincloss Foundation, Inc. of Oklahoma City (devoted to furthering enjoyment of the arts).
President, Oklahoma Art League, 1956-1957.
Member, Symphony Board, Oklahoma City.

1. Bayard Cutting Auchincloss, Jr.[6]

Born 1952.

2. James Gordon Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1954.

3. Pamela Pratt Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1956.

4. Hugh Stirling Auchincloss.[6]
   Born 1957.

4. Lisa Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1924.
   Married 1946 to George Alexander Eyer, Jr. Three children.
   Chapin School.
   War Service: Red Cross Nurses' Aid at New York Hospital 1942-1945.
   Republican.
   Lives in New York City.

   1. Diana Eyer.[6]
      Born 1947.

   2. Lisa Eyer.[6]
      Born 1949.

   3. Alexander Eyer.[6]
      Born 1951.

5. Hope Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1929.
   Married 1949 to George Amiel Whipple II. Three children.
   Barnard College two years, class of 1951.
   Episcopalian and Republican.
   Interests: music (piano) and golf.
   Lives in New York City.

   1. Jack Van Horn Whipple.[6]
      Born 1951.

   2. George Amiel Whipple III.[6]
      Born 1952.

   3. Susan Auchincloss Whipple.[6]
      Born 1953.

JOHN WINTHROP AUCHINCLOSS[3]

AND HIS

DESCENDANTS

8. John Winthrop Auchincloss.[3]

Born 1853, died 1938.

Married 1881 to Joanna Hone Russell. Six children.

College: Sheffield Scientific School (Yale) 1873.

Occupation: Partner, Auchincloss Brothers (N.Y.), merchants and agents in U. S. for J. & P. Coats, thread manufacturers; president and director of Dunnellon Phosphate Company (Florida) and director of its two related companies; director for 45 years of Illinois Central Railroad Company and chairman of its Finance Committee; director and member of Investigating Committee of Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York; treasurer of New York City Mission.

Lifelong Presbyterian and Republican and New Yorker.

Interests and hobbies: fishing, duck shooting, sailing, collecting rugs and china.

He had unusual ability in his understanding of finances and investment, especially the complicated operation and financing of railroad corporations. He advised a number of his relatives on their investments. He is remembered with great affection by his children for his integrity, kindness, modesty and generosity, and for his understanding in helping them with their problems.

J. Howland Auchincloss.[4]

1. Charles Russell Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1881, New York City.

Educated at private schools, New York City, Yale 1903.

Former member of New York Stock Exchange, former partner in Cyrus J. Lawrence and Sons, director of the Fiduciary Trust Company of New York.

First World War, 77th Division, and then General Staff, Headquarters First Army A.E.F. Major of Infantry.

Episcopalian.

Member Union Club & Garden City Golf Club.

One daughter.

1. HELEN RUSSELL AUCHINCLOSS.[5]
   Born 1907.
   Married 1925 to William R. Everitt. One child.
   Married 1932 to Mata Tchermoeff, who died 1934.
   Lives in New York City.

   1. CHRISTOPHER RUSSELL EVERITT.[6]
      Born 1927, died 1932.

2. ELIZABETH AUCHINCLOSS.[4]
   Born 1884.
   Married 1907 to Percy Hall Jennings (d. 1951). Five children.
   Lived in New York City before moving permanently to Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island.
   Presbyterian and Republican.
   Interests and hobbies: golf and tennis, fly fishing on streams, painting, gardening, sewing.
   Adventures: Trip to the Far East in 1911-1912, Japan, Philippines, and to China, the year of the Chinese revolution "when all the queues came off."
   Has had twenty-three grandchildren, including three sets of identical twins.

   1. PERCY HALL JENNINGS.[5]
      Born 1907.
      Married 1938 to Jean Lovett. Two children.
      Married 1949 to Loretta Melton. Four children.
      Education: Yale 1930, Cornell and Harvard Medical Schools. Interned at New York, Boston Children's, and Bellevue Hospitals in medicine and pediatrics. Pediatrician in Berkeley and Lafayette, California. Residence, Lafayette.

      1. MARY JENNINGS.[6]
      2. NANCY JENNINGS.[6] } Born 1941. Twins.
         d. 1941.

      3. PHILIP BURTON JENNINGS.[6]
      4. JOHN HOWLAND JENNINGS.[6] } Born 1951. Twins.

      5. CHARLES RUSSELL JENNINGS.[6]
         Born 1953.

      6. DAVID HALL JENNINGS.[6]
         Born 1956.

2. Joanna Russell Jennings.[5]
Born 1908.
Married 1932 - 1952 to David Rodney Hadden. Four children.
Vassar 1931. Majored in bacteriology and presently working at Long Island Bacteriological Association at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island.
Interests and hobbies: swimming, fishing, amateur theatricals.
Presbyterian and Republican.
Lives at Cold Spring Harbor.

1. Joanna Russell Hadden.[6]
Born 1934.
Student School of Nursing, Presbyterian Hospital, New York City.

2. David Rodney Hadden, Jr.[6]
Born 1936.
At Reed College, Portland, Oregon.

3. John Winthrop Hadden.[6]
Born 1939.
At Yale.

4. Robert Malcolm Hadden.[6]
Born 1942.

3. Elizabeth Auchincloss Jennings.[5]
Born 1912.
Married 1933 to Francis A. Truslow (d. 1951). Four children.
Married 1952 to John Taylor Howell, Jr., M.D. One child.
Attended Vassar College.
Presbyterian. Republican.
Lives in New York City.
Worked at International House 1952-1956.
Interested in travelling, tennis, painting and sewing.

1. Francis Adams Truslow, Jr.[6]
Born 1938.
At Yale.

2. Frederic Jennings Truslow.[6]
Born 1939.
At Yale.

3. Elizabeth Buck Truslow.[6]
Born 1941.

4. Sophia Day Truslow.[6]
   Born 1945.

5. John Taylor Howell III.[6]
   Born 1952.

4. Frederic Beach Jennings.[5]
   Born 1916.
   Married 1940 to Ellen Osgood. Four children.
   Princeton 1937.
   War Service: Worked at Ranger Aircraft Engines and on a guided missile at Mass. Inst. of Technology.
   Occupation: Boat builder.
   Interested in skiing and sailing.
   Presbyterian. Republican.
   Lives at Ipswich, Mass.

   1. Laura Jennings.[6]
      Born 1941.

   2. Margaret Jennings.[6]
      Born 1944.

   3. Frederic Beach Jennings.[6]
      Born 1945.

   4. Ellen Louise Jennings.[6]
      Born 1949.

5. Laura Hall Jennings.[5]
   Born 1918.
   Married 1940 to David Ingraham. Four children.
   Bennington College, A.B., 1939. Cornell University, M.S., 1940.
   Lives at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, where she works in bacteriological research at Long Island Bacteriological Association.

   1. Alice Gardner Ingraham.[6]
      Born 1943.

   2. David Ingraham, Jr.[6]
   3. Frederic Beach Ingraham.[6] } Born 1944. Twins.

   4. John Winthrop Ingraham.[6]
      Born 1948.

3. John Winthrop Auchincloss.[4] d. 1888.
4. Joseph Howland Auchincloss.[4]

} Born 1886. Twins.

Married 1911 to Priscilla Dixon Stanton. Four children.
Yale 1908. Harvard Law School 1911.
Practices law and resides in New York City. Member of the firm of Davis Polk Wardwell Sunderland and Kiendl since 1921.
War Service: 1918 Field Artillery. Officer's Training School, Fort Zachary Taylor, Kentucky.
Presbyterian. Republican (most of the time).

1. John Winthrop Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1912.
   Married 1941 to Audrey Maynard.
   Yale 1934. Yale Law School 1937.
   War Service: 1943-1946 in United States and Germany.
   Present occupation: U. S. Foreign Service.
   Address: American Consulate General, Palermo, Sicily.
   Hobbies: "uncoordinated general interests."

2. Priscilla Dixon Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1916.
   Married 1942 to William Francis Pederson. Three children.
   Lives at New Canaan, Connecticut.
   Episcopalian and Democrat.
   Hobbies and interests: tennis, swimming, mountain climbing ("the mild kind"), bird watching, gardening, photography, reading.
   1. William Francis Pederson.[6]
      Born 1943.
   2. Priscilla Stanton Pederson.[6]
      Born 1946.
   3. Ann Blondin Pederson.[6]
      Born 1949.

3. Louis Stanton Auchincloss.[5]
   Born 1917.
   Married 1957 to Adele Lawrence.
   Yale ex 1939. University of Virginia, LL.B., 1941.
   Lawyer and writer.
   Lives in New York City.
   Presbyterian. Republican.

War Service: 1941-1945 Lieutenant, U.S.N.R. Atlantic, Caribbean and Pacific Areas.

Published works: The Indifferent Children, The Injustice Collectors, Sybil, A Law for the Lion, The Romantic Egoists, The Great World and Timothy Colt.

4. Joseph Howland Auchincloss, Jr.[5]

Born 1921.

Married 1947 to Sarah Sedgwick Knapp. Four children.

Graduate of Yale. Attended medical school in army 1942-1945. Assigned to Veterans Administration 1946-1948.

Occupation: Physician. Assistant professor of medicine at Upstate Medical Center, State University of New York at Syracuse.

Unitarian.

Interests and hobbies: piano, tennis, wood-working.

"Life is never dull with Sarah and the four girls. They are all amazing people, and it is quite a challenge to keep up with their imaginations."

1. Katharine Hazard Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1947.

2. Sarah Sedgwick Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1949.

3. Priscilla Stanton Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1952.

4. Elizabeth Dixon Auchincloss.[6]

Born 1953.

5. Joanna Russell Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1889.

Brearley School, New York. Graduated from Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing 1927. Head nurse, Presbyterian Medical Center 1929-1946.

Present occupation: Director of Fund Raising for Union Settlement.

Episcopalian. Republican.

Lives in New York City.

Interests and hobbies: people, international affairs, social conditions, outdoor life, reading.

6. Caroline Auchincloss.[4]

Born 1891.
Married 1911 to Robert Henry Fowler, M.D. Seven children.
Brearley School, N. Y.
Lived in New York City until 1955, since then in Yarmouth, Maine.
Served time on three school boards while raising my family. Now interested in country life, plants, reading, sewing, American antiques.
Presbyterian and (independent) Republican.
In 1912 sailed around Newfoundland when the Straits of Belle Isle were full of icebergs.

1. Lindsay Arthur Fowler.[5]

Born 1913.
Married 1935 to Wilma Sargent Danforth. Two children.
Harvard 1936.
Republican.
War Service: Shipbuilding. Design and Material Control 1939-1944, Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. Designed flight deck arresting gear for "Essex" class aircraft carriers, 1944-1945. Wainwright Shipyard, managed all material control for building sixty liberty ships.
Occupation: Shipbuilder 1948-1957. Electric Boat Division, General Dynamics Corporation. Planned schedules and material control for "Trigger" class submarines. Bought material for first atomic submarines "Nautilus" and "Sea Wolf." Purchasing agent for later atomic submarines "Skate," "Triton" and "Skipjack" class.
Sports and hobbies: sailing, member of Cruising Club of America. With own hands has built three boats, one schooner and two cutters.
Adventures: climbed Matterhorn and Jungfrau in Switzerland at age 15 with father (aged 46). Has sailed Atlantic coast from Nova Scotia to Florida.
Lives in Noank, Connecticut.

1. Samuel Thomas Fowler.[6]

Born 1938.

2. Russell Auchincloss Fowler.[6]

Born 1942.

2. John Winthrop Fowler.[5]

Born 1916, died 1936, in his junior year at Princeton.

3. Elizabeth Fowler.[5]
Born 1918, died 1918.

4. David Anderson Fowler.[5]
Born 1920.
Married 1947 to Holly Reynolds Reid. Three children.
Princeton 1942. Harvard Law School 1948.
War Service: Shipfitter 1941-1943 in Maine, Florida and New York. Lt. j.g. U. S. Naval Reserve 1943-1945. Atlantic Area.
Occupation: Associate Counsel, Law Department, Scott Paper Company.
Presbyterian. Republican.
Interests and hobbies: sailing, gardening, skiing.
Lives in Devon, Pennsylvania.

1. Emily Arthur Fowler.[6]
Born 1949.

2. Lindsay Anderson Fowler.[6]
Born 1952.

3. Elizabeth Auchincloss Fowler.[6]
Born 1956.

5. Alexander Robert Fowler.[5]
Born 1921.
Married 1943 to Sally Carroll Holt. Five children.
Princeton 1943.
War Service: U.S.N.R. 1943-1946. South Pacific Area. Mine sweeping and patrol duty on "splinter fleet." Attained exalted position of C.O. of Y.M.S. 117 (motor minesweeper) and Y.O. 191 (small tanker) before retirement from active duty.
Occupation: Proprietor and manager of commercial printing firm (Dingley Press) at Freeport, Maine.
Presbyterian. Republican.
Interests: sailing and skiing.
Lives in Cumberland Foreside, Maine.

1. Anne Carroll Fowler.[6]
Born 1946.

2. John Winthrop Fowler.[6]
Born 1947.

3. Benjamin Payson Fowler.[6]
   Born 1949.

4. Ellen Auchincloss Fowler.[6]
   Born 1954.

5. Susan Fowler.[6]
   Born 1957.

6. Robert Henry Fowler, Jr.[5]
   Born 1928.
   Paul Smith's Junior College 1948.
   In U. S. Army in 1951.
   Episcopalian.
   Interest: photography.
   Lives at Yarmouth, Maine.

7. Howland Auchincloss Fowler.[5]
   Born 1930.
   Princeton 1951. M.Sc. Brown University 1955, Ph.D. Brown University 1957.
   Occupation: Physicist. Currently working at Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.
   Presbyterian. Republican.
   Interested in piano playing, tennis, skiing, sailing, squash.
   Lives at Silver Spring, Maryland.

HUGH DUDLEY AUCHINCLOSS[3]
AND HIS DESCENDANTS

9. Hugh Dudley Auchincloss.[3]
Born 1858, died 1913.
Married 1891 to Emma B. Jennings. Three children.
Graduated from Yale University.
Lived in New York City and Newport, Rhode Island.
"At the conclusion of a brief hunting trip in Colorado after graduation, he entered into the employ of Messrs. Muir and Duckerworth, cotton buyers, in Savannah, remaining there nearly two years. On January first, 1882, he was admitted to partnership in the firm of Auchincloss Brothers of New York, and he has remained engaged in active business in that city ever since, ten years of the time in the dry goods commission business with his brothers, and latterly managing private companies in mining, manufacturing, and transportation, as well as banking and other interests. He is President of the Port Inglis Terminal Company, Treasurer of the Dunnellon Phosphate Company, Trustee of the Bowery Savings Bank, New York, and Director of the Florida Manufacturing Company, and Barker Chemical Company, the Newport and Wickford Steamboat and Railroad Company; the Bank of Manhattan Company, the Consolidated Gas Company, and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, all of New York. His reputation, acquired by years of faithful and efficient service in these and other enterprises, ranks him among the small group of controlling business men not connected with insurance companies in New York City.

(Quoted from Yale Class Book)

1. Esther Judson Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1895.
Married 1917 to Edmund W. Nash. Four children.
Married 1930 to Norman H. Biltz. Two children.
Miss Porter's School, Farmington.
Presbyterian and Republican.
Collects stamps.
Lives in Reno, Nevada.

1. Edmund Witherell Nash.[5]
Born 1918.

Married 1941 to Ruth Prentice Coffin. One child.
Yale 1939.
War Service: Captain U. S. Army, North Africa and Italy 1943-6.
Presbyterian and independent voter.
Sports: golf, fishing, hunting, fencing. Hobby: piano.
Lives in Sausalito, California.

1. Edmund Burr Nash.[6]
   Born 1946.

2. Hugh Dudley Auchincloss Nash.[5]
   Born 1919, died 1920.

3. John Francis Nash.[5]
   Born 1921.
   Married 1944 to Mary Elizabeth Gough. Six children.
   War Service: U. S. Navy 1941-1945, aircraft carrier, North Atlantic, Casablanca, South Pacific.
   Lives in Reno, Nevada.

   1. Mary Gough Nash.[6]
      Born 1945.

   2. John Francis Nash, Jr.[6]
      Born 1946.

   3. Geoffrey Jennings Nash.[6]
      Born 1949.

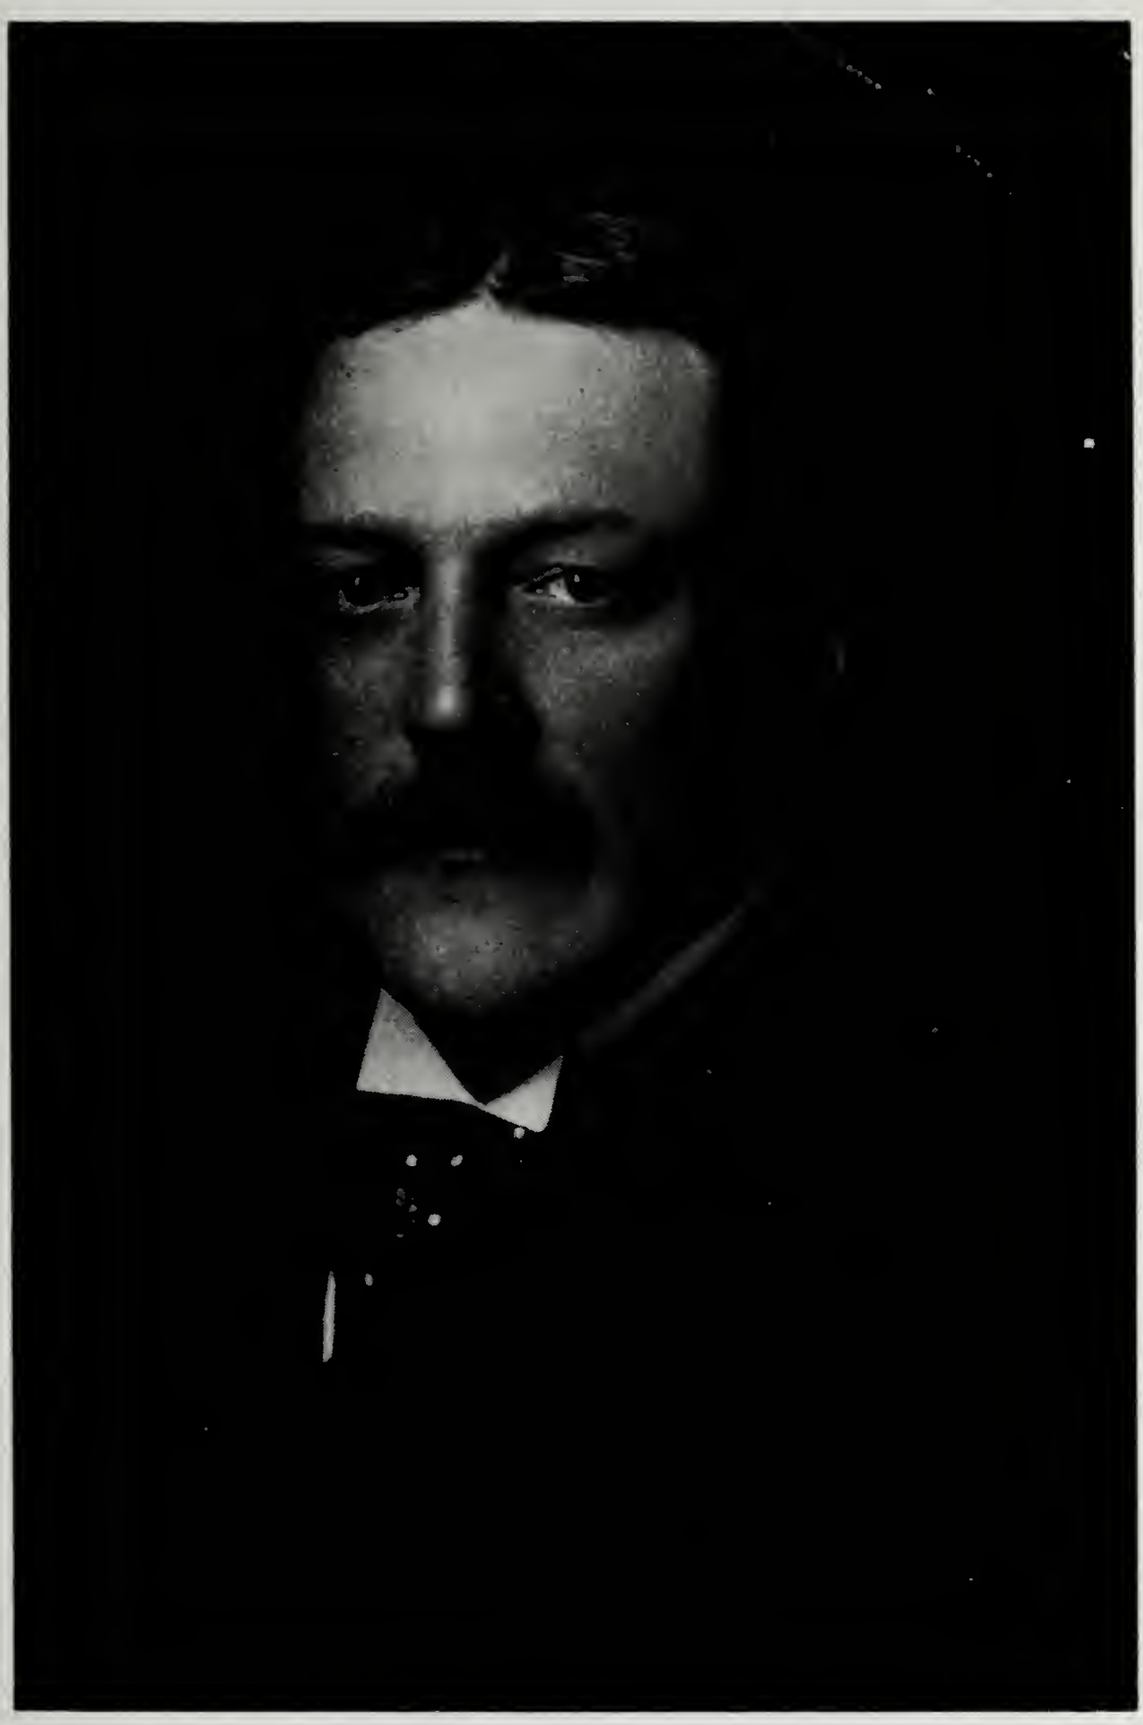
   4. Norman Biltz Nash.[6]
      Born 1951.

   5. Lisa Auchincloss Nash.[6]
      Born 1953.

   6. Esther Judson Nash.[6]
      Born 1956.

4. Emma Anita Nash.[5]
   Born 1922.
   Married 1945 to Arthur M. Dodge. Four children.
   Married 1953 to Philip Harkins.
   Lives in La Jolla, California.

   1. Henry Burr Dodge.[6]
      Born 1945, died 1945.



Hugh Dudley Auchincloss

JOHN AND ELIZABETH AUCHINCLOSS' HOUSE ON WASHINGTON STREET
NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND

2. Priscilla Barnes Dodge.[6]
Born 1947.

3. Annie Burr Auchincloss Dodge.[6]
Born 1948.

4. Arthur M. Dodge, Jr.[6]
Born 1951.

5. Sheila Kingman Biltz.[5]
Born 1932.
Married 1952-1956 to Dr. William A. O'Brien III. Two children.
Miss Porter's School, Farmington, Connecticut.
Episcopalian, wants good government, preferably Republican.
Interested in horses and horse shows, raising Arabian horses. Takes them to shows all over Nevada and California, and has only come home once without a ribbon. Also likes gardening, canasta and just plain walking. Likes travelling.
Lives in Reno, Nevada.

1. William Alexander O'Brien IV.[6]
Born 1953.

2. Dinah Jennings O'Brien.[6]
Born 1954.

6. Esther Auchincloss Biltz.[5]
Born 1935.
Married 1953 to Paul Dean Langham. Two children.
Lives in Reno, Nevada.

1. Patricia Wylie Langham.[6]
Born 1954.

2. Mary Michelle Langham.[6]
Born 1955.

2. Hugh Dudley Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1897.
Married 1925 to Maya Chrapovitsky. One child.
Married 1935 to Nina Gore Vidal. Two children.
Married 1942 to Janet Lee Bouvier. Two children.
Yale 1920. King's College, Cambridge University, England 1920-1921. Columbia Law School, LL.B., 1924.
Occupation: General partner, Auchincloss, Parker and Redpath.

War Service: U.S.N.R. 1917-1918, Eastern Seaboard U. S. and Kingston, Jamaica.

Presbyterian and Republican.

Lives in McLean, Virginia.

Sports and hobbies: golf, fishing and chess.

Has twice been connected with the United States Senate through marriage; once as the son-in-law of the late Thomas Gore, Senator from Oklahoma; and now as stepfather-in-law of John F. Kennedy, Junior Senator from Massachusetts.

Hugh lists the following as an adventure:

"One afternoon back in 1928 when I was living on Kalarama Road in Washington, D. C., I stepped out to mail some letters and met the Ex-President of the United States and then, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, William Howard Taft, taking his afternoon walk. He invited me to join him and after a short walk, we returned to Wyoming Avenue where he lived. We were standing out on the public street and just as I was taking my leave of him, he asked me how my wife was (my wife Maya was recuperating from a very serious head injury she received by walking into an airplane propeller). When I assured him of her recovery, he asked me to give her his best regards, and to tell her that she and he had one thing in common, because, when he was nine years old, he had fallen out of the front seat of a barouche and landed on his head, hitting the curbstone. He then removed his hat and asked me to feel the bump which he had, although we were standing out on the public street. He had a considerable dent about half-way back on the right-hand side of his head. He then told me to tell my wife that this had been the greatest source of comfort to him all his life, because, whenever he failed to show the normal amount of intelligence, he was always able to blame it on this bump he received when he was nine years old. I, therefore, have felt the bump on the head of the Ex-President and Chief Justice of the United States, on the public street in broad daylight."

H. D. A.

1. Hugh Dudley Auchincloss, Jr.[5]

Born 1927.

Yale 1950, and one year graduate work in Arabian studies, American University of Beirut 1952-1953.

War Service: U. S. Marine Corps 1946. U. S. 1951-1952. Sergeant Intelligence Section in U. S.

Protestant and Republican.
Occupation: Banker.
Sports: crew, track at college, golf, swimming and squash. Hitchhiking around the Middle East while at University of Beirut, including a trip through Iraq and Iran, Egypt and the Sudan.
Lives in New York City.

2. Nina Gore Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1937.
Miss Porter's School, Farmington, Connecticut. Bryn Mawr.
Married 1957 to Newton Ivan Steers, Jr.

3. Thomas Gore Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1939.

4. Janet Jennings Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1945.

5. James Lee Auchincloss.[5]
Born 1947.

3. Annie Burr Auchincloss.[4]
Born 1902.
Married 1928 to Wilmarth Sheldon Lewis.
Miss Porter's School, Farmington.
War Service: National Headquarters American Red Cross, Washington, D. C. Assistant director Volunteer Special Services 1941-1944. Volunteer Field Representative for Camp and Hospital Service 1944-1946.
Congregationalist and very independent Republican.
Lives in Farmington, Connecticut.
Hobbies: golf, croquet, gardening.
Present occupation: Curator of prints in the Lewis-Walpole Collection.
Wilmarth Lewis is writer and editor, Yale Edition of Horace Walpole's Correspondence.

JOHN AUCHINCLOSS[2]

ANCESTRY, COLLATERAL RELATIVES AND HISTORICAL NOTES

Historical notes made by WILLIAM S. AUCHINCLOSS.[3]

A.D. 1225. In re Sir Hugh Auchinclos. Son of Sir Reginald Auchinclos, "versus the abbott and convent of Paisley, Scotland, regarding the 'lands of Auchinclos.'" See registram de Paiselet, Edinburgh Archives. Also see page 9, History of the Royal Family of Stewarts, A.D. 1034 to 1710.

March 10, 1543. Mary, Queen of Scots, "confirmed the charter of James Auchincloss of that ilk, to his son James."

See J. A. in Burke's History of the Commons, Volume D, Page 232.

Sept. 8, 1571. King James VI of Scotland pardoned James Auchincloss and vassals "for coming in battle against His Majesty's army at Langside."

Various recorded spellings of the name.

1. Auchinclos.
2. Auchinlos.
3. Auchinloss.
4. Auchsloss.
5. Asloss.

THE WEEKLY SCOTSMAN

Sept. 1, 1928

Origin of Surnames

Achincloss

An ancient Ayrshire name, originating from the lands of Auchincloich in this county. The derivation of the name is from the Gaelic achadh "a field"; an "of the"; cloiche, "a stone"; thus meaning "Field of the stone." The earlier record of the name I have gives James Achinloss, A.D. 1500 of that ilk.

G. P. D.

From the records of the Saint Andrew's Society of New York.
Sent to us by James C. Auchincloss.[4]

Research made and chart prepared by William S. Auchincloss.[3]

Dates before 1535 approximate.

Roberto Auchincloss. Born 1420, died 1495.

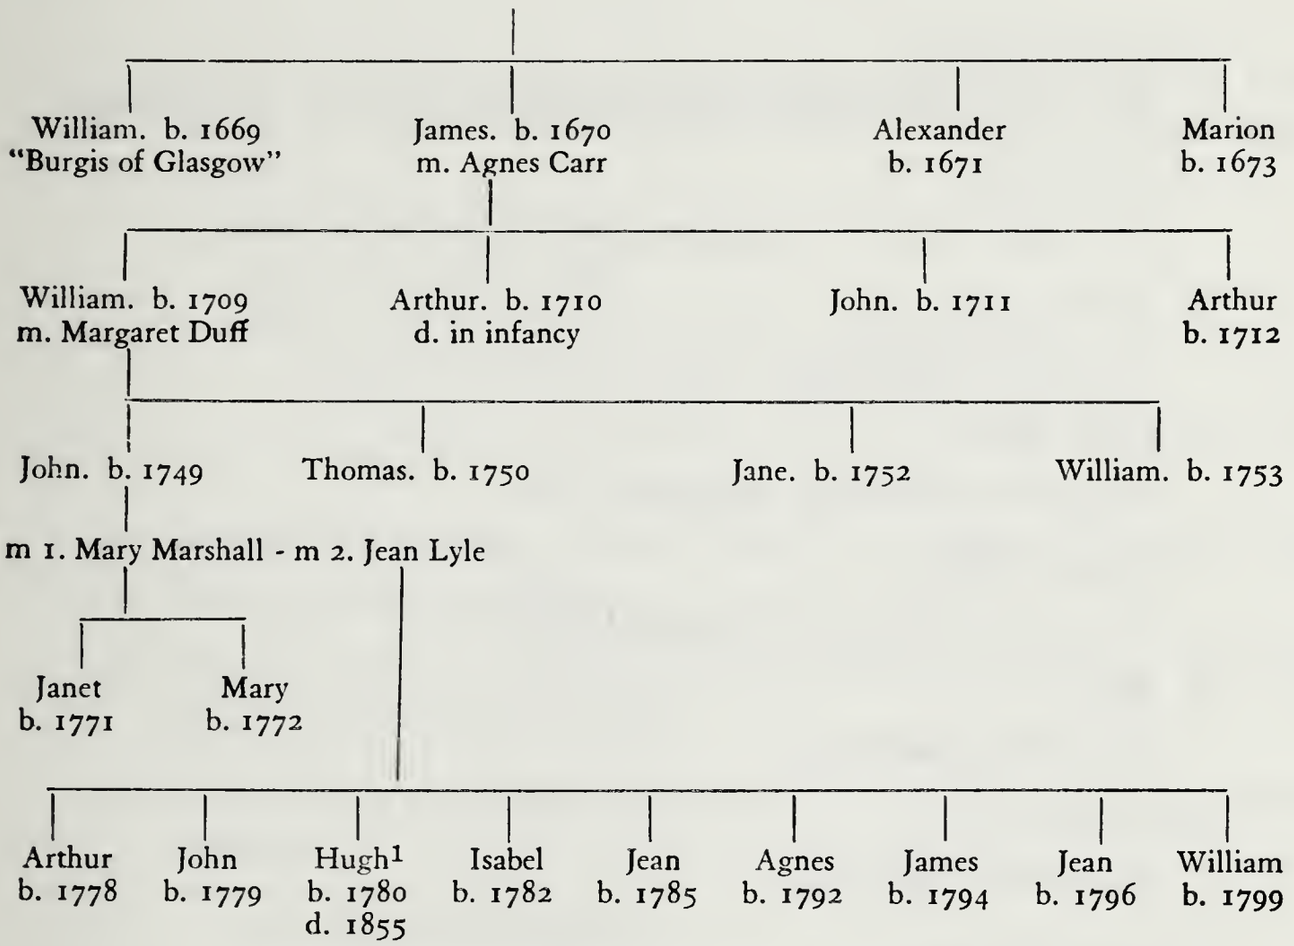
His son, Jacobus, of Adam Hill. Born 1455.

His son, James (Laird of Terrarum de Auchincloss). Born 1499, died 1592.

His son, Adam. Born 1535, died 1617.

His son, James. Born 1570.

His son, James. Born 1621. Merchant in Paisley, Scotland. Married Sarah Kinney.



Notes supplied by William S. Auchincloss.[3]

John Auchincloss, born 1749, was in business in Paisley, Scotland, under the firm name of "John Auchincloss and Son." He and his brother Thomas are buried on the north side of the churchyard of Paisley Abbey.

John Auchincloss, born 1779, son of above and brother of Hugh[1] (1780-1855) travelled regularly between America and Scotland. Married Matilda Inglis in Baltimore in 1812. Firm name, "A. and J. Auchincloss," owners of the "Frances," which was captured by the Americans in the War of 1812.

HUGH AUCHINCLOSS[1]

Born 1780, died 1855

Married Ann Anthony Stuart of Philadelphia 1806. Came from Greenock, Scotland in the ship "Factor." Arrived November 23, 1803 in New York City. In business on his own account 1808. One of the original members of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. His residence in 1813 was at 14 Gold Street. Thirteen children.

1. James Stuart.
   Born 1807, died 1808, named after James Stuart of Philadelphia.
2. Jane Lyle.
   Born 1808, died 1862. Maiden lady. Fine painter in oil.
3. John.[2]
   Born 1810, died 1876.
4. Mary Barr.
   Born 1812, died 1899. A devoted aunt.
5. Robert Gill.
   Born 1814, died 1878. Captain U.S.N.
6. Agnes.
   Born 1816, died 1817.
7. Hugh, Jr.
   Born 1818, died 1899.
8. Anne Stuart.
   Born 1820, died 1841.
9. Isabella.
   Born 1822, died 1823.
10. Matilda.
    Born 1824, died 1894.
11. Harriet Romeyn.
    Born 1826, died 1899.

12. Emily.
Born 1828, died 1899.

13. Sarah Lang.
Born 1833, died 1838.

---

7. Hugh Auchincloss, Jr., married Sarah C. Marsh of Rahway, New Jersey. They had five children who died in childhood. One daughter survived.
    Mary B. Auchincloss
    Born 1851, died 1936.
    Married 1872 to Lewis P. Child. Two children.
        Hugh Auchincloss Child. Born 1873, died 1882.
        Ruth Auchincloss Child. Born 1883. Now living in California.

10. Matilda Auchincloss married Horatio S. Brown. Their son was Hugh Auchincloss Brown.

11. Harriet Romeyn Auchincloss married John G. Smedberg. One son, Hugh Auchincloss Smedberg.

12. Emily Auchincloss married James T. Maxwell. They had three children.

    Ann Stuart Maxwell.

    Emily R. Maxwell, married Frank Humphrey, M.D.

    Aspinwall Maxwell.

Data provided by William S. Auchincloss.[3]

AN INCIDENT IN THE LIFE OF ANN STUART AUCHINCLOSS

As told by her to her daughter Emily (Maxwell) and as written down by her and passed on to her nephew, Henry Buck Auchincloss, and now in the possession of his son John Auchincloss. The facts are from this paper but the story has been changed from the first to the third person for clarity, brevity and continuity.

Hugh Auchincloss who came to this country from Paisley, Scotland about 1804, married in 1806 Ann Stuart, daughter of James Stuart, a merchant of Philadelphia, and brought her to New York where they lived at the northeast corner of Pearl and Pine Streets. When war was declared between England and the United States in 1812, Hugh Auchincloss, who had been occupied in selling dry goods and founding the Auchincloss family in America (i.e. there were three children by this time), had neglected to take out naturalization papers, and consequently was a British subject. President Madison by proclamation ordered all British subjects to remove themselves at least "forty miles from tide water so that they might not be able to render aid or give comfort to the enemy." In conformity with this order Hugh Auchincloss went to Poughkeepsie, leaving his wife and children in New York.

Ann Stuart Auchincloss, who was an American citizeness, at once occupied herself with getting letters of introduction to President Madison, "Dolly" Madison, Secretary Monroe and others of prominence in Washington, in order to pledge the loyalty of her husband to the American cause and to act as a hostage for this loyalty. Armed with these letters she started out alone for Washington, a three and one-half days' trip by stage coach over wretched roads, arriving in the evening of the third day. Next morning on the way to the White House, in an open hack, her driver leaned over and said, "There, ma'am, goes Mr. Monroe, the Secretary of State." "Stop the hack," said she, and jumped out and introduced herself to Mr. Monroe, and asked him for an appointment when she could present her letter of introduction. Mr. Monroe made the appointment for the following morning. She then went on to the White House and presented her letters to the President and "Dolly" Madison. She stayed in Washington for about a week making such a nuisance of herself that the President and Secretary of State to get rid of her, for the country was at war, issued an executive order allowing her husband to return to New York and resume his occupation. Having accomplished the purpose of her visit to Washington she started for home but was delayed in Trenton by riots over the drafting of recruits for the war. She finally arrived in Jersey City in the evening and was rowed across the river to Cortlandt Slip, but by the time she got there it was quite dark, and she was extremely nervous over the prospect of having to walk across the City in the dark. Fortunately she met the watchman, who was carrying a lantern, and he lit her way through Maiden Lane on a narrow board walk, where, if she had fallen off, she would have been in mud over her shoe tops. She finally arrived safely home where she found her three children sick with the measles. However, they were soon well, and her husband having returned from Poughkeepsie, she was happy and contented. This did not last long as other British subjects and disgruntled Americans brought so much pressure to bear upon The President, for making an exception in the case of Hugh Auchincloss, that he was forced to withdraw the executive order, and again he (Hugh Auchincloss) went back to Poughkeepsie. This time he did not stay there but bought a team of mules and a wagon, loaded the wagon with merchandise and started west. When peace was declared at the end of the war of 1812, Hugh Auchincloss had gotten as far west as Louisville, Kentucky, where he sold his equipment and returned to New York.

He subsequently became the first President of the American Wholesale Dry Goods Association, and successfully steered the Association through the severe panic of 1837. In appreciation of this the Association presented him with a solid silver tea service, which is still in the family.

John Auchincloss.[4]

"THE OLD ELM AT BUCK'S CORNER"

"In the year 1776 Sarah Saltonstall, wife of Daniel Buck, was standing at the door of her residence built the year before on the corner of Wethersfield Avenue and Jordan Lane, when an old and earth-stained Indian came along with a little sprig of an elm tree under his arm. He pleaded with her to exchange the sprig for a quart of rum which was, at that time, kept in every house in New England, and he was so weary and pleaded so hard that her kind heart was touched and the exchange was made. He went off down the road happy with his rum, and she, stooping down near the house, planted the sprig. She has long since gone to her heavenly home, and the magnificent elm on the south side of Mr. Buck's residence, eighteen feet in circumference and its grand old branches spreading eighty feet above, is the outcome of the little sprig that was planted over one hundred years ago. It is one of the grandest old trees in this town, which is remarkable for its many heaven-towering elms."

Stiles' "Ancient Wethersfield," Conn. N. Y. 1904.

OUR ANCESTRAL HOME

As you drive towards Wethersfield, Connecticut, from Hartford, you pass two white eighteenth century houses which face each other across the main road at the edge of the town. These are Buck houses and while simple, have good lines and a substantial, respectable look about them, just like all the members of the family. The house to the east was built for Josiah Buck in 1774 and is now owned and lived in by Francis Goodwin, a classmate of Lefty's at Yale. The land in back runs down to Wethersfield Cove, a rather lovely backwater of the Connecticut River, where sailboats and cabin cruisers are moored. The house facing it, which has several large red barns in back, was built for Daniel Buck in 1775, the year he was married to Sarah Saltonstall. Presumably his son Gurdon was born here and lived here until marrying and moving to New York City, where their daughter, our Grandmother Auchincloss, was born. I am told that the house has always been owned by the Buck family, although on my one and only visit to the house there were certainly no Bucks there that I was aware of.

Annie Burr Auchincloss Lewis.[4]

Poem written by J. Howland Auchincloss,[4] and read by him at the family dinner given by Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss (Aunt Emma) at the Colony Club, New York City, on December twenty-sixth, 1937.

Listen, my children, and learn from me
About the growth of your family tree.
It was planted in eighteen thirty-five,
And all of us who are now alive —
The old, the young, and you and me —
Are evidence of its vitality.

It was in that year John Auchincloss,
For better, for worse, for gain or loss,
Led to the altar Elizabeth Buck.
The marriage was happy and shot with luck,
For the strains of Paisley and New York
Produced nine visits from the stork,
A number sufficient for what one chooses,
Either nine judges or nine muses.
This number has never been surpassed.
Their descendants all have been outclassed.
But wait — and correct my mistake, if any —
The record was tied by Cousin Jenny.

The children were raised in godly ways,
And we like to think they spent their days
In learning to repeat with style
The Shorter Catechism, mile by mile.
Will and Edgar, John and Hugh,
Henry and Sarah and Ellie, too,
They had a keen sense of right and wrong,
And followed this pattern all life long.

It should be the task of a mightier pen
To record the lives of these women and men.
But the next generation after that,
And what they did when they came to bat,
Are what especially interest me,
For I am biased, you will agree.

What paragons, these next in line!
And how did they come to be so fine?
Was it their husbands and their wives
Who bolstered up these noble lives?
Or perhaps the spell of dear old Yale
Has helped to keep the boys from jail?

Dear Aunt Emma, to you our thanks
For bringing in line our scattered ranks,
For giving us all a chance to see
The height and strength of our family tree,
And to feel the growth, from its sturdy root,
Of family friendships, its greatest fruit.

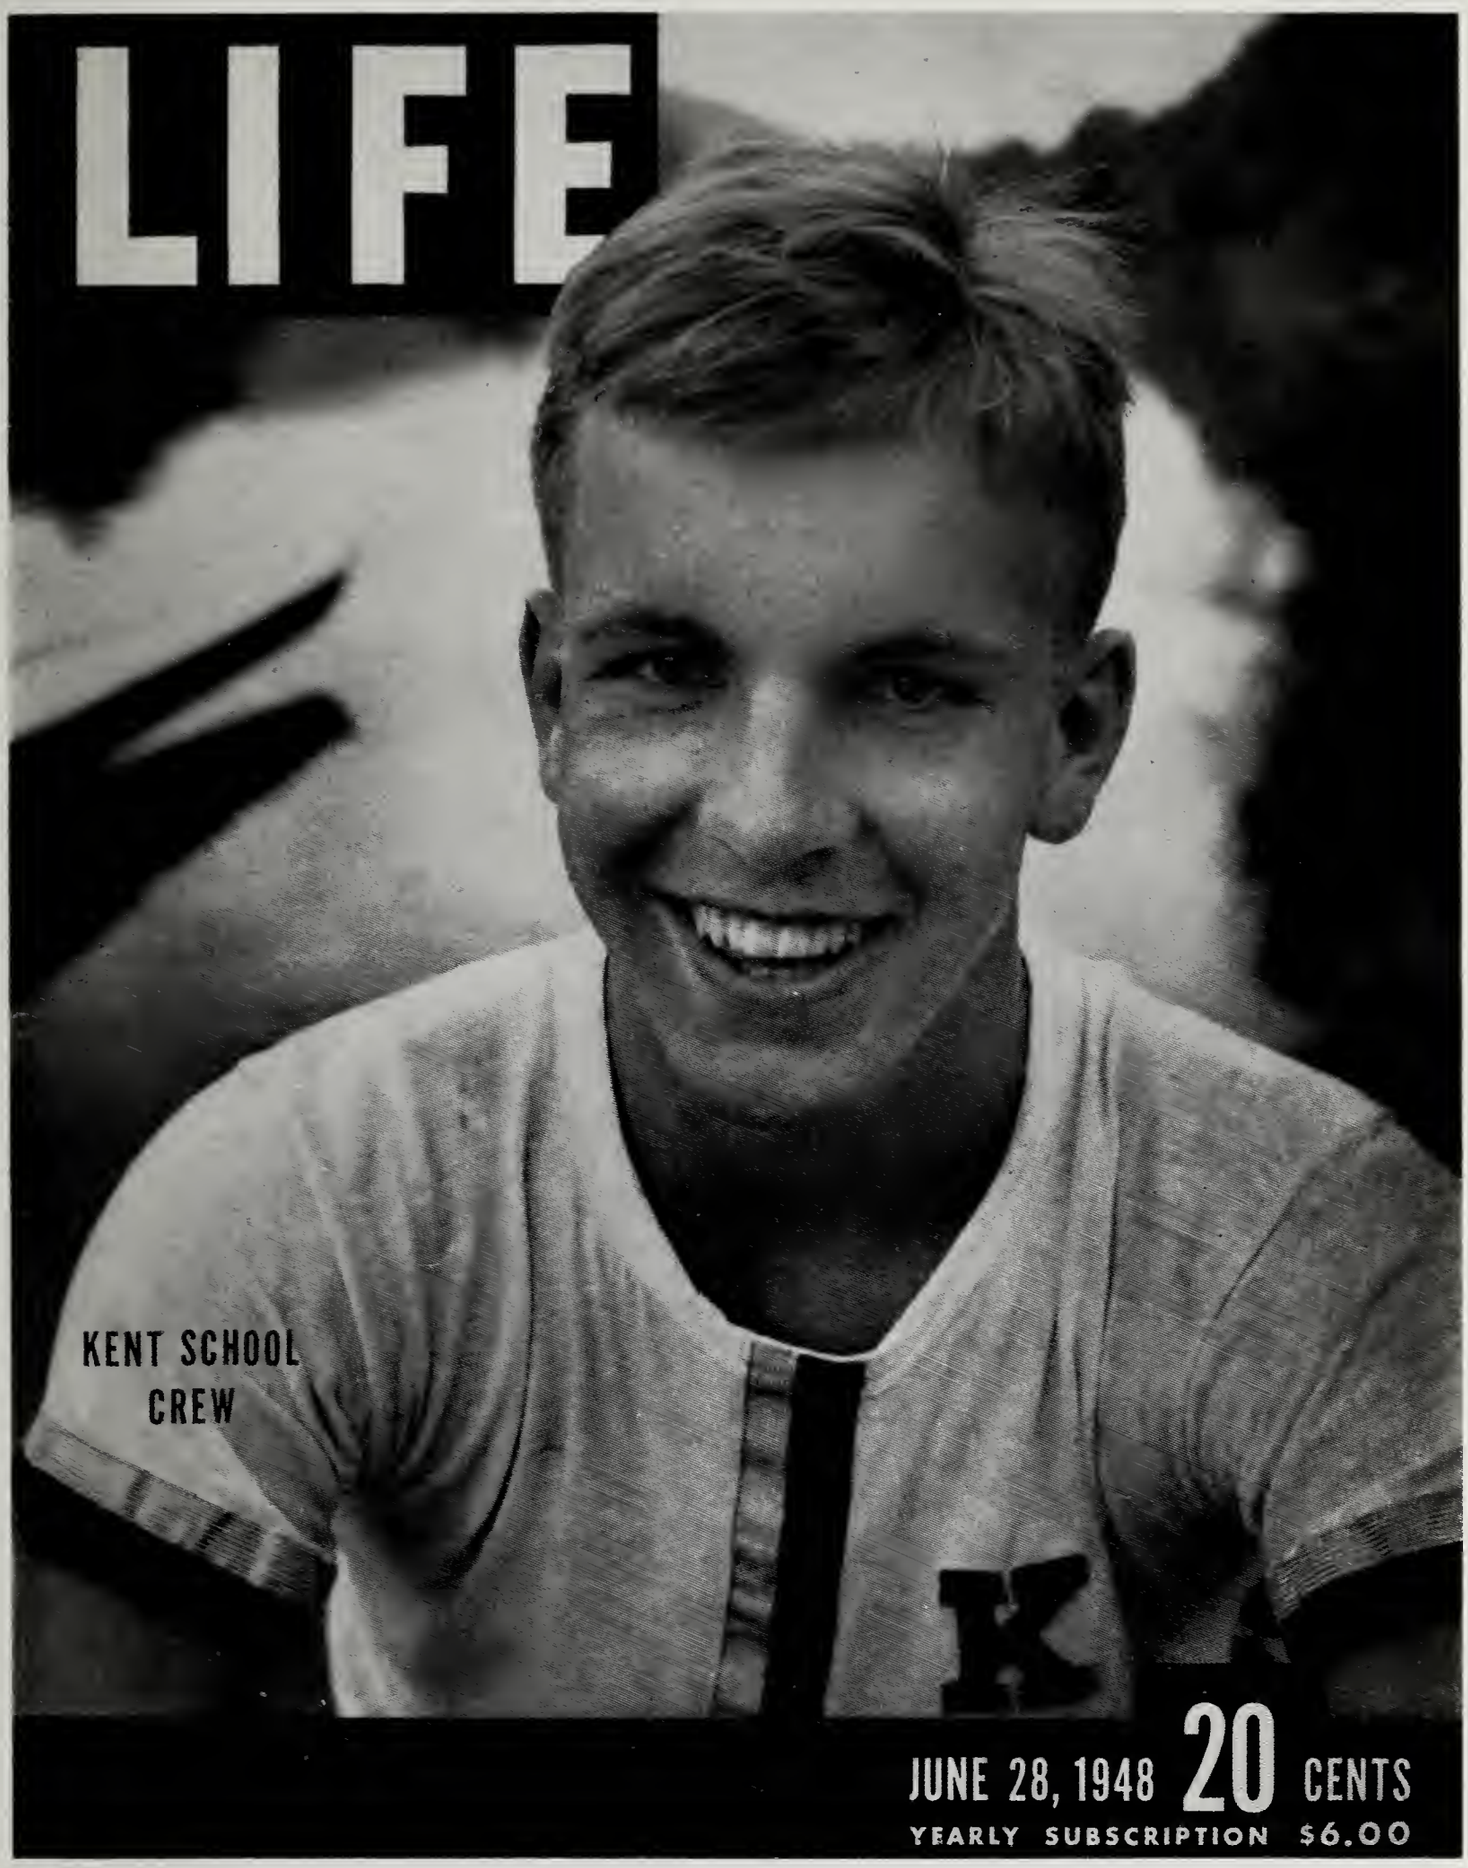
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Much historical research on the Auchincloss family was done by William S. Auchincloss,[3] and given us by his son, William K. Auchincloss.[4] The account of Ann Anthony Auchincloss' trip to Washington was written by John Auchincloss.[4] The chart of the colonial ancestry of Elizabeth Buck was provided by Charles C. Auchincloss.[4] Frank Truslow[5] brought the genealogical chart up to date in 1937, and we have used his chart and carried it to 1957.

The story of the Wethersfield Elm is quoted by Albert Buck in "The Bucks of Wethersfield," from page 710 of Stiles' "Ancient Wethersfield," published in New York in 1904. The photographs of the Buck homestead and its accompanying article were provided by Annie Burr Auchincloss Lewis.[4]

The reproduction of the cover of "Life" is used by courtesy of Life Magazine.

J. R. A.
C. A. F.



James Stuart Auchincloss

Hugh Stirling Auchincloss

Born 1957

BIRTHS

MARRIAGES

DEATHS